You cannot file a claim for a taxpayer who has died.

When to File

If you are filing a New York State income tax return, attach Form IT-214 to it and file both as soon as you can after January 1, 1986 but not later than April 15, 1986.

Definitions

All who share your residence, and its furnishings, facilities and accommodations are members of your household, whether they are related to you or not.

Household members also include tenants, sub-tenants, roomers or boarders if they are related to you in any of the following ways:

- A son, daughter or a descendent of either.
- A stepson or stepdaughter.
- A brother, sister, stepbrother or stepsister.
- A father, mother or an ancestor of either.
- A stepfather or stepmother.
- A niece or nephew.
- An aunt or uncle.
- A son-in-law, daughter-in-law, father-in-law, mother-in-law, brother-in-law or sister-in-law.

No one can be a member of more than one household at one time.

Household gross income is the total of the following income items that you and all members of your household received:

- Federal adjusted gross income (even if you don't have to file a federal return).
- New York State additions to federal adjusted gross income. For a list of these additions, see Publication 308, Real Property Tax Credit, or the instructions for Form IT-201.
- Any part of the following items of income not included in either of the above:
  - Pensions and annuities, including railroad retirement benefits, all payments received under the federal Social Security Act and veterans' disability pensions.
  - All state unemployment insurance payments.
  - Support money.
  - Gain from the sale or exchange of property.

- Income earned abroad exempted by Section 911 of the Internal Revenue Code.
- Supplemental Security Income (SSI) payments.
- Nontaxable interest received from New York State, its agencies, instrumentalities, public corporations or political subdivisions.
- Workers' compensation.
- The gross amount of loss-of-time insurance.
- Cash public assistance and relief, other than medical assistance for the needy.
- Nontaxable strike benefits.

Household gross income does not include surplus food or other relief in kind.

A residence is a dwelling that you own or rent, and up to one acre of land around it. It must be located in New York State. If your residence is on more than one acre of land, only the amount of real property taxes or rent paid that applies to the residence and only one acre around it may be used to figure the credit. (If you do not know how much rent or real property tax you paid for the one acre surrounding your residence, contact your local assessor.) Each residence within a multiple dwelling unit may qualify. A condominium, a cooperative or a rental unit within a single dwelling is also a residence.

A trailer or mobile home that is used only for residential purposes and is defined as real property under the Real Property Tax Law is also a residence.

Real property taxes paid are all real property taxes, special ad valorem levies and assessments levied and paid upon a residence owned or previously owned by a qualified taxpayer (or spouse, if the spouse occupied the residence for at least six months) during the taxable year. You may elect to include real property taxes that are exempted from tax under Section 467 (for persons 65 and older) of the Real Property Tax Law (veteran's tax exemption does not qualify). If you do not know this amount, contact your local assessor.

Real property taxes paid also include any real estate taxes allowed (or which would be allowable if the taxpayer had filed returns on a cash basis) as a deduction for tenant-stockholders in a cooperative housing corporation under Section 216 of the Internal Revenue Code.

If any part of your residence was owned by someone who was not a member of your household, include only the real property taxes paid that apply to the part you and other qualified members of your household own.

If your residence was part of a larger unit, include only the amount of real property taxes paid that can be reasonably applied to your residence.

If you owned and occupied more than one residence during the taxable year, add together the prorated part of real property taxes paid for the period you occupied each residence.

Rent constituting real property taxes paid is 25% of the adjusted rent paid on a New York residence during the taxable year after subtracting any charges for heat, gas, electricity, furnishings or board. If these charges are not separately stated, complete lines 19 through 22 of Schedule B of Form IT-214 to figure 25% of adjusted rent. Do not include any subsidized part of your rental charge in adjusted rent.

If any part of your residence was rented by someone who was not a member of your household, include on line 19 of Form IT-214 only the amount of rent you and members of your household paid.

If you moved from one rented residence to another rented residence during the taxable year, add 25% of adjusted rent paid for each residence.

Line 14 Real Property Tax Credit

The real property tax credit for your household is the amount on line 12 or line 13 — whichever is less. Enter the lesser amount on line 14.

If more than one member of your household is filing Form IT-214, divide the line 14 amount equally among all filers. You can divide the line 14 amount any way you want if you each agree to the amount of your share and attach a copy of the agreement to your Form IT-214. Enter only your share of the line 14 amount on your Form IT-214 (and on your return if you have to file one) if you are married and filing a joint return, you do not have to divide the credit.

If you are filing a 1985 New York State income tax return, transfer your line 14 amount to Form IT-200, line 25 or Form IT-201, line 69. If any qualified member of your household, including yourself, is 65 or older, check the box on line 25 of Form IT-200 or on line 69 of Form IT-201.

Your credit will be subtracted from the amount of tax you owe. Any amount over the tax you owe will be refunded to you. Sign Form IT-214 and attach it to the return you are filing.

If you are not filing a 1985 New York State income tax return, sign and date Form IT-214 and mail it to:

Any amount over your debt will be refunded.

Disclaiming of spouse's debt — If you are married and you do not want to apply your part of the refund to your spouse's debt because you are not liable for it, attach a signed statement to that effect to your return and ask for your part of the refund.
