

1986 Instructions for Form IT-2105.9

Underpayment of Estimated Income Tax by Individuals

General Instructions

Everyone must prepay each year's tax, either by having tax withheld or by paying estimated tax. If your withholding and estimated tax payments during 1986 were less than your income tax for 1986, you may be charged a penalty on the amount of the underpayment.

Use Part I of Form IT-2105.9 to see if you prepaid enough tax in each payment period. If you did not, use Part II to figure the penalty for that period.

If you checked filing status ③ or ④ on your New York State return, each spouse must figure his or her penalty on a separate Form IT-2105.9.

The penalty for each installment is figured separately. Income taxes withheld from your salary, pension, etc., are considered payments of estimated tax in equal installments on the four installment dates, unless you prove otherwise.

Penalty rate — The present penalty rate is 7.9% (.079). For information as to whether or not the rate will change on March 1, 1987, please wait until after February 1, 1987 to call toll-free 1-800-342-3536. From outside New York State, call 1-518-438-8581. The rate does not have to be compounded daily when figuring the penalty.

Period of underpayment — The penalty is applied to the number of days that the installment was not paid. You figure the period of the underpayment by counting the number of days after the due date of the installment to and including the date of payment or April 15, 1987, whichever is earlier.

Farmers and fishermen — If your New York adjusted gross income from farming or fishing is at least two-thirds of your New York adjusted gross income for 1985, or 1986, you cannot use this form. Instead, attach a copy of federal Form 2210F, Underpayment of Estimated Tax by Farmers and Fishermen, to show how you figured the penalty or which exceptions apply.

Exceptions to penalty — No penalty will be due if:

- (a) the tax due (after deducting tax withheld) is less than $100. If you owe two taxes (for example, New York State and City of New York), no penalty is due if you owe less than $200. If you owe three taxes (New York State, City of New York and City of Yonkers) no penalty is due if you owe less than $300; or

- (b) you did not have any New York State tax liability for the preceding taxable year, the preceding taxable year was a taxable year of 12 months, and throughout the preceding taxable year you were a New York State resident, or a nonresident who had New York adjusted gross income; or
- (c) an installment of estimated tax is due on or after an individual's death; or
- (d) the underpayment was caused by a casualty, disaster or other unusual circumstances; or
- (e) you retired in 1985 or 1986 after reaching the age of 62, or you became disabled, and the underpayment was due to reasonable cause and not to willful neglect.

If you are requesting a waiver of the penalty, attach a statement to Form IT-2105.9 containing all the facts necessary to justify your request.

Privacy act — The Personal Privacy Protection Act requires the Tax Department to set forth: its authority for asking for personal information from you or your employer, how such information will be used, what could happen to you if you fail to provide such information, and its authority to maintain such information.

For more information on the Personal Privacy Protection Act, see the instructions for Forms IT-201 or IT-203 or call toll-free 1-800-342-3536. From areas outside New York State, call (518) 438-8581.

Instructions for Figuring Your Penalty

If filing for a fiscal year, enter the month and day your tax year began and the month, day and year that it ended in the spaces provided at the top of page 1.

Name and Social Security Number Box Enter in the spaces at the top of the form your name and social security number. If you filed either a joint return or separate returns on one form, also enter your spouse's name.

Part 1 — Figuring Your Underpayment

Line 1 — Enter your total tax from line 68 of Form IT-201 or line 63 of Form IT-203. Reduce the amount on line 68 of Form IT-201 by any gift for wildlife entered on line 67 of Form IT-201, or by any real property tax credit claimed on line 69 of Form IT-201.

Line 4 — If this line is less than $100, you do not owe a penalty and need not attach Form IT-2105.9 to your tax return. Also, you do not have to complete this form if you owe two taxes (for example, New York State and City of New York) and line 4 is less than $200, or you owe three taxes (New York State, City of New York and City of Yonkers) and line 4 is less than $300.

Line 5 — Enter your 1985 tax from line 68 of your 1985 Form IT-201 or line 63 of your 1985 Form IT-203. Reduce the amount on line 68 of Form IT-201 by any gift for wildlife entered on line 67 of Form IT-201, or by any real property tax credit claimed on line 69 of Form IT-201.

If you did not file a 1985 return or if your 1985 tax year was for a period of less than 12 months, do not complete line 5. Instead, enter the amount from line 2 on line 6.

You will not have to pay a penalty or complete this form if you had no tax liability for 1985, you were a New York State resident, or a nonresident who had New York adjusted gross income, during all of 1985 and your 1985 tax return was for a full 12 months.

Line 8 — If your income varies during the year (for example, you receive unexpected or seasonal income not subject to withholding in April or later), complete the annualized income installment worksheet on page 3 of these instructions. Separate worksheets are provided so that you can figure annualized installments of New York State, City of New York and City of Yonkers taxes. If you complete line 8 for any payment period, you must complete it for all payment periods.

Line 9 — Enter the amounts from line 7 in each column. However, if you elect to annualize your installments at line 8, and it is to your advantage, enter the amounts from line 8 in each column.

Line 10 — Enter the total of New York State, City of New York and City of Yonkers estimated tax paid and tax withheld for each period. If you worked all year, figure even payments of income tax withheld by dividing the total amount withheld by 4, and include the result in each column.

Instead of making the estimated tax payment due January 15, 1987, you can file your return and pay all the tax due by February 2, 1987. If you do this, enter the amount of tax you pay with your return on line 10, column (d).

Line 11 — Enter any overpayment (or underpayment) from the prior payment period.

Line 12 — In column (a), enter the amount from line 10. In the other columns, add lines 10 and 11 if Line 11 is an overpayment. Subtract line 11 from line 10 if line 11 is an (underpayment).

Line 13 — If line 9 is greater than line 12, subtract line 12 from line 9. The result is an underpayment which should also be entered on line 14 for the same payment due date and on line 11 for the next payment due date. If line 12 is greater than line 9, subtract line 9 from line 12. The result is an overpayment which should also be entered on line 11 for the next payment due date.

NOTE: If line 12 is a negative amount, your total underpayment at line 13 is the installment due at line 9 plus the line 12 amount.

Part II — Figuring the Penalty

Complete this part only for periods in which there is an underpayment.

Line 15 — Enter the date of payment or April 15, 1987, whichever is earlier. If you reduce a line 10 amount by an underpayment from a prior period, the underpayment is considered to be paid on the due date of the later period.

Line 16 — Line 16a is for figuring the number of days at the present penalty rate of 7.9%. Line 16b is for figuring the number of days at the new penalty rate if the rate changes on March 1, 1987.

Example 1 — You were required to pay 1986 estimated tax but did not do so. The penalty rate changed on March 1, 1987. You would figure the number of days for the first payment due date (April 15, 1986) as follows:

Line 16a — from April 15, 1986 to February 28, 1987 — 319 days

Line 16b — from February 28, 1987 to April 15, 1987 — 46 days

You would figure the days for the other payment due dates in a similar manner.

Line 17 — To compute the penalty on line 17a, multiply the number of days on line 16a (divided by 365) x 7.9% x the amount on line 14.

Example 2 — On line 14 you entered $200 and on line 16a you entered 122 days. You would figure the amount to be entered on line 17a as follows:

$$122/365 \times 7.9\% \times $200 = $5.28$$

Complete line 17b (if the penalty rate changes on March 1, 1987) by multiplying the number of days on line 16b (divided by 365) times the new rate times the amount on line 14.

Enter the total of lines 17a and 17b on line 17c.

Line 18 — Add the amounts on line 17c and enter the result on line 18. Check the box on line 80 on Form IT-201, or on line 74 on Form IT-203, and enter the amount of the penalty in the space provided. If you owe tax, include the penalty in the amount that you pay.

If you show an overpayment on your return, do not reduce the overpayment by the amount of the penalty. As explained above, check the box and enter the amount of the penalty in the space provided. We will reduce your overpayment by the amount of the penalty and refund the difference to you. If you indicate that you want your overpayment applied to your 1987 estimated tax, we will apply the difference to your 1987 estimated tax.

Instructions for Annualized Income Installment Worksheet — New York State

Line 1 — Attach a schedule showing how you figured your total New York income for each period.

Line 7 — If you claim the standard deduction on line 7, the amount that you can enter is shown below:

Single taxpayers	$2,600
All others	$3,000

If you are married, filing separately (on one return or on separate returns), you can divide the allowable standard deduction any way you want. However, your total combined standard deduction cannot exceed $3,000.

Line 11 — If you checked filing status ② or ③ and your annualized total New York income on line 3 is $38,000 or less, you can claim the family adjustment. If you checked filing status ①, ④ or ⑤, enter "0" on line 11.

Filing status ③ — If you checked filing status ③, you and your spouse must combine your line 3 amounts to determine whether you qualify for the family adjustment. Also, each spouse must figure his or her annualized net income for each of the four periods. If one spouse is not required to complete Form IT-2105.9, he or she must figure his or her annualized net income for each period on a separate sheet of paper and attach it to Form IT-2105.9. Use lines 1 through 10 of this worksheet as a guide in figuring the annualized net income of the spouse who does not have to complete Form IT-2105.9.

The tables and worksheet for figuring the family adjustment are included in the instructions for Forms IT-201 and IT-203. Use them to figure your family adjustment and enter it on line 11.

Line 12 — Filing status ①, ④ and ⑤ — Enter your line 10 amount on line 12. This is your New York taxable income.

Filing status ② — Subtract line 11 from line 10 and enter the result. This is your New York taxable income.

Filing status ③ — If your annualized net income (line 10) is more than your spouse's annualized net income, subtract line 11 from line 10. Your spouse must add lines 10 and 11 if he or she is required to file Form IT-2105.9. If the reverse is true, you must add lines 10 and 11 and your spouse (if required to file Form IT-2105.9) must subtract line 11 from line 10.

Line 16 — Credits that are based wholly or partly on income are figured on the annualized income for each period.

Example 3 — You are single and qualified to claim the household credit. Your total New York income (line 1) for the period 1/1/86-3/31/86 is $5,000. You would use the annualized amount on line 3 ($20,000) when figuring your household credit.

Other credits which should be figured on an annualized basis are the resident credit, child and dependent care credit and real property tax credit. Credits that are not based on income are figured by applying the 1986 credit rate to the amount of the expenditure paid or incurred during the period. An example of this is the investment credit.

Line 18 — Enter in each column the total amount of other New York State taxes reported on line 58 of Form IT-201 or on line 58 of Form IT-203. Do not annualize these taxes.
