Instructions

Change for 1990

Rail or Motor Carrier Employees

Compensation paid on or after July 6, 1990, by an interstate rail carrier, an interstate motor carrier or an interstate motor private carrier to an employee who works in more than one state is subject only to the income tax laws of the employee's state of residence for state and local income tax purposes. Therefore, the resident credit is allowable only for the tax that applies to the compensation received in the other taxing jurisdiction prior to July 6, 1990.

General Instructions

If you claimed a 1989 resident credit for taxes paid to a province of Canada, you must complete a 1990 Form IT-112-R for purposes of the add-back of the federal foreign tax credit even though no current year credit is claimed.

If you are a resident of New York State and if any part of your income was taxed by another state, a local government within another state, the District of Columbia or a Canadian province, you may claim a credit against your New York State tax. This credit is allowable only for the part of the tax that applies to income received in the other taxing authority. If you paid tax to more than one taxing authority, use a separate Form IT-112-R for each credit. If you checked filing status ③ (Married filing separate return) on Form IT-201 or Form IT-203 and if you or your spouse paid tax to another taxing authority, you must each figure your credit on a separate Form IT-112-R.

A New York resident estate or trust is also allowed to claim a resident credit on Form IT-112-R. If you are a fiduciary of a resident estate or trust, determine the total New York adjusted gross income in Part I the same way as a resident individual. If you have any questions about figuring the resident credit for estates and trusts, contact the Taxpayer Assistance Bureau, W.A. Harriman Campus, Albany, NY 12227, or call toll free (from New York State only), 1 800 CALL TAX (1 800 225-5829). From areas outside New York State, call (518) 438-8581.

Part I — Income and Adjustments

Lines 1 through 19

Enter in Column A, lines 1 through 19, the amount of each item of income or deduction from Form IT-201 or the amount of income reported on Form IT-205 as if the estate or trust were a resident individual.

If you were a New York State resident for only part of the year and if you were subject to income tax by another taxing authority during that period, enter in Column A the amount of each item of income or deduction entered on the Part-Year Resident Income Allocation Worksheet, Column B, in Form IT-203-I, Instructions for Form IT-203.

Enter in Column B the gross income taxed by the other taxing authority minus any applicable expenses and losses that you deduct in computing federal adjusted gross income. In determining the expenses and losses deductible from items of gross income, follow the federal rules for deductions in computing federal adjusted gross income.

You may not enter in Column B any amount of income, gain, loss or deduction arising from interest or dividends from intangible assets unless it is received from an asset connected with a business conducted in the other taxing authority.

Do not enter in Column A or B any income that is taxable to the other taxing authority but not taxable to New York State.

Do not enter in Column A or B the ordinary income portion of lump-sum distributions received from sources outside New York State that is subject to the New York State separate tax on lump-sum distributions and is also subject to any income tax or separate tax by the other taxing authority. Figure any resident credit against the separate tax on lump-sum distributions paid to another taxing authority on Form IT-112.1, Resident Credit Against Separate Tax on Lump-Sum Distributions.

Line 20 — New York adjustments

Enter your net New York adjustment. On Form IT-201, it is the difference between your New York additions (lines 20 through 22) and your New York subtractions (line 29). On Form IT-205, it is the amount from Schedule B.

Part-year resident — Enter your net New York adjustments that apply to your income in Column A on page 1 of this form.

Line 21 — New York adjusted gross income

The net New York adjustment on line 20 must be added to or subtracted from federal adjusted gross income on line 19. Enter the result.

Line 22

Enter in Column A the capital gain portion of lump-sum distributions reported at Part II of federal Form 4972. Enter in Column B the capital gain portion of lump-sum distributions reported at Part II of federal Form 4972 that is subject to tax by this jurisdiction.

Line 23

Add lines 21 and 22 and enter the result.

Part II or Part III — Resident Credit or Add-back of Resident Credit

If you claim credit for income taxes paid to another state, local government or the District of Columbia, use Part II. If you claim resident credit or add-back of resident credit for income taxes paid to a province of Canada, use Part III.

Line 24 or line 30

Enter the name of the other state, the local government within the other state or the Canadian province (for example: Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, Washington, D.C., or Ontario, Canada) where the income tax was paid.

Line 25 or line 31

Enter the amount of income tax paid to the other taxing authority. The amount of income tax paid to the other taxing authority is the amount of income tax minus any credits allowed against this tax. Do not include withholding tax or estimated tax payments as a credit. If the amount of income tax paid to the other taxing authority is satisfied by the amount of income tax withheld, you must attach proof of payment. A copy of the withholding tax statement showing the amount of tax withheld by the other taxing authority is acceptable proof.

Line 26 or line 40

Form IT-203 filers — Enter New York State tax from Form IT-203, line 57.

Form IT-201 and Form IT-205 filers — Complete the following worksheet:

Worksheet for Figuring Your New York State Tax Payable

Carry your division to four places. For example, if you divide $10,000 by $30,000, the result will be 33.33% (.3333).

Line 29 or line 49 — Resident credit allowable

The resident credit may not decrease your New York State tax payable to an amount smaller than the tax figured by excluding the other taxing authority's income from your total New York State income.

If you filed more than one 1990 Form IT-112-R for taxes paid to Canadian provinces, enter the total resident credits claimed on one 1990 Form IT-112-R. Enter "0" on all others.

Transfer the total to Form IT-201-ATT, line 1; Form IT-203-ATT, line 1; or include it on Form IT-205, page 1, line 8. Attach each Form IT-112-R and a copy of the other state, local or provincial tax return to Form IT-201, IT-203 or IT-205.

Line 36 and line 38

The Canadian provincial tax is deemed to be claimed last for federal purposes. When computing the amount available for New York credit, use only the unused federal portion.

Line 48

If you filed more than one 1989 Form IT-112-R for taxes paid to Canadian provinces, enter the total resident credits claimed.

Line 50

If line 48 is more than line 47, subtract line 47 from line 48 and enter the result on line 50. This is your add-back of resident credit. Transfer as a total the add-back(s) from each Form IT-112-R to Form IT-201-ATT, line 14; Form IT-203-ATT, line 14; or include it on Form IT-205, line 10 marked IT-112-R add-back of resident credit.
