

Instructions for Form IT-201-X Amended Resident Income Tax Return

New York State • City of New York • City of Yonkers

IT-201-X-I

Purpose of Form IT-201-X

If after filing your New York State income tax return you realized you have made an error or if the Internal Revenue Service makes changes to your federal return, you must file an amended New York State return to correct the error or report the changes.

Use 1996 Form IT-201-X if your original return was Form IT-100, Form IT-200 or Form IT-201. To amend nonresident and part-year resident Form IT-203, see the instructions for Form IT-203. To get forms to amend your returns for years before 1996, see Need Help? on page 4.

Do not use Form IT-201-X to report a net operating loss carryback, to protest a paid assessment which was based on a statement of audit changes or to file a protective claim; use Form IT-113-X, Claim for Credit or Refund of Personal Income Tax. However, if you are reporting any of the above and some other change to your state return, you must file Form IT-201-X or the appropriate amended return, showing all changes; do not use Form IT-113-X in this case.

If you receive an assessment from the Tax Department, do not file an amended return strictly to protest the assessment. Follow the instructions you receive with the assessment.

When to File an Amended Return

File Form IT-201-X after you have filed your original return. Generally, Form IT-201-X must be filed within three years of the date the original return was filed or within two years of the date the tax was paid, whichever is later.

If you file an amended federal return to make changes to your federal income, tax preference items, total taxable amount, capital gain or ordinary income portion of a lump-sum distribution, or credit for child and dependent care expenses, you must also file an amended New York State return within 90 days of the date you amend your federal return. If the Internal Revenue Service changes any of these items, you must report these changes to the New York State Tax Department on an amended return within 90 days of the IRS final determination. If you do not agree with the IRS determination, you must still file an amended state return indicating your disagreement. To report changes for a tax year prior to 1988, use Form IT-115, Report of Federal Changes.

Amending Other Types of Returns

Partnerships — A partnership must file Form IT-204 (marked Amended) to amend or report federal changes to partnership income, gain, loss or deduction; see the instructions for Form IT-204. Each partner must file Form IT-201-X to report his or her share of the changed items.

S corporation — An S corporation must file Form CT-3-S or CT-4-S (marked Amended) to amend or report federal changes to S corporation income, gain, loss or deduction; see the instructions for Form CT-3-S or CT-4-S. Each shareholder must file Form IT-201-X to report his or her share of the changed items.

Estates and trusts — An estate or trust must file Form IT-205 (marked Amended) to amend or report federal changes to estate or trust income, gain, loss or deduction; see the instructions for Form IT-205. If the federal changes affect the distributable net income of the estate or trust, each beneficiary's share of any New York fiduciary adjustment or New York net change that applies to the federal changes must be reported on Form IT-201-X.

Nonresidents and part-year residents — If you are a New York State nonresident or part-year resident, you must report federal changes (to the extent that they affect your New York State income tax liability) on Form IT-203 (marked Amended). See the instructions for Form IT-203.

Information on Income, Deductions, etc.

If you have any questions, such as what income is taxable or what expenses are deductible, or you need information about the use of federal figures on your New York return, see the instructions for the return you are amending. For telephone assistance, see Need Help? on page 4.
