

Instructions for Form IT-601

Claim for EZ Wage Tax Credit

IT-601-I

General information

In order to claim the EZ wage tax credit, a taxpayer must be certified under Article 18-B of the General Municipal Law as eligible to receive the credit. A copy of the certification must be attached to Form IT-601 each year the credit (or carryforward of the credit) is being claimed. For information on certification, call Empire State Development at (518) 292-5240.

The EZ wage tax credit is allowed for up to five consecutive tax years, beginning in the first tax year in which all three eligibility requirements are met. Subsequent certification at the same or a different location in the same empire zone or at a location in a different empire zone shall not extend the five years that the credit is allowed.

Eligibility requirements

The EZ wage tax credit must be claimed in the first tax year in which all three of the following eligibility requirements are met:

- empire zone (EZ) wages are paid; and
- the average number of full-time employees in New York State for the current tax year (line 2) exceeds the average number of full-time employees in New York State during the four years immediately preceding the first tax year in which the EZ wage tax credit is claimed (line 3); and
- the average number of full-time employees in the EZ for the current year (line 5) exceeds the average number of full-time employees in the EZ or area comprising the EZ during the four years immediately preceding the first tax year in which the EZ wage tax credit is claimed (line 6).

The average number of employees on line 3 and line 6, once computed, remains the same for each of the five tax years for which the credit is claimed.

If line 2 exceeds line 3, continue with Part II. If line 2 is less than line 3, you cannot compute a credit for the current tax year. However, if you are claiming any available EZ wage tax credit carryover from a preceding tax year, go to line 23 of Schedule E.

If line 5 exceeds line 6, complete Schedule A. If line 5 is less than line 6, you cannot compute a credit for the current tax year. However, if you are claiming any available EZ wage tax credit carryover from a preceding tax year, go to line 23 of Schedule E.

Schedule A — Computation of EZ wage tax credit for the current tax year

If you meet the three eligibility requirements, compute the EZ wage tax credit in Schedule A, Part I and Part II.

The EZ wage tax credit in Part I is $3,000 multiplied by the average number of qualified employees on line 8.

The EZ wage tax credit in Part II is $1500 multiplied by the average number of qualified employees on line 11.

An EZ wage tax credit cannot be computed in Schedule A for any tax year unless all three eligibility requirements are met for that tax year.

Schedule E — Computation of the EZ wage tax credit allowed for the current tax year

A taxpayer not allowed to compute an EZ wage tax credit in Schedule A may claim any available EZ wage tax credit carryforward from a preceding tax year in Schedule E. An EZ wage tax credit carryforward in Schedule E is available until used.

The EZ wage tax credit allowed in Schedule E (including any EZ wage tax credit carryforward) is limited to 50% of the tax imposed under section 601 of Article 22, Personal Income Tax, before the allowance of any tax credits.

Any portion of the EZ wage tax credit disallowed in Schedule E as a result of the above limitation may be carried forward on subsequent tax returns.

The EZ wage tax credit must be deducted after any tax credit that cannot be carried forward and before any tax credit that can be carried forward.

Schedule F — Computation of refundable portion of EZ wage tax credit

For tax years beginning on or after January 1, 1994, an Article 22 taxpayer qualifying as the owner of a new business under section 606(a)(10) may elect to treat 50% of the EZ wage tax credit available as a carryforward to following years as an overpayment to be refunded without interest or applied as a payment against next year's tax.

Revocation of Article 18-B certification

Once certification under Article 18-B of the General Municipal Law is revoked, any wages paid by the taxpayer on or after the effective date of such revocation will not constitute EZ wages.

Definition of terms

An empire zone (EZ) is an area within New York State that has been designated as an EZ pursuant to Article 18-B of the General Municipal Law. The area must be characterized by pervasive poverty, high unemployment and general economic distress.

Empire zone (EZ) wages are wages paid by a certified taxpayer for full-time employment during the tax year in an area designated or previously designated as an EZ, if such employment is in a job created in the EZ during the period of its designation as an EZ or within four years of the expiration of such EZ designation. This provides a taxpayer who located in the EZ in the last year of its designation the opportunity to compute the EZ wage tax credit for five consecutive tax years.

Wages paid to individuals employed before an EZ is designated do not qualify as EZ wages.

Full-time employment means a job consisting of at least 35 hours per week, or two or more jobs that together constitute the equivalent of a job of at least 35 hours per week. A seasonal job that meets these requirements constitutes full-time employment if the job is continuous for at least three months.

A targeted employee is a New York State resident who received EZ wages during the current tax year and who is one or more of the following:

- an eligible individual under the provisions of the Work Opportunity Credit (IRC section 51); or
- an individual eligible for benefits under the provisions of the Job Training Partnership Act (Public Law 97-300, as amended); or
- a recipient of public assistance benefits at any time during the previous two years; or
- an individual whose income is below the most recently established poverty rate promulgated by the U.S. Department of Commerce, Bureau of Census; or
- a member of a family whose family income is below the most recently established poverty rate promulgated by the U.S. Department of Commerce, Bureau of Census.

Any employee who qualified as a targeted employee at the time of initial employment will qualify as a targeted employee for subsequent years as long as he or she continues to receive EZ wages and remains a resident of New York State.

The Department of Labor (DOL) is required to provide a certificate verifying the targeted status of an individual for use by an employer seeking wage tax credits under the EZ program. The Tax Department will only recognize Form ES 450, issued by the DOL, and signed by a DOL representative as proof of targeted status under the Wage Tax Credit program.

Family means a group of two or more persons (one of whom is the householder) related by birth, marriage or adoption and residing together; all such persons (including related subfamily members) are considered members of the same family.

Related persons include:

- members of a family, but only brothers and sisters, half-brothers and half-sisters, a spouse, ancestors (parents, grandparents, etc.), and linear descendants (children, grandchildren, etc.);
- two corporations that are members of the same controlled group of corporations determined by applying a 10% ownership test;
- the fiduciaries of two different trusts, or the fiduciary and beneficiary of two different trusts, if the same person is the grantor of both trusts;
- a tax-exempt educational or charitable organization and a person who directly or indirectly controls it (or a member of whose family controls it);
- a corporation and individual who own directly or indirectly more than 10% of the value of the outstanding stock of the corporation;
- a trust fiduciary and a corporation of which more than 10% in value of the outstanding stock is owned directly or indirectly by or for the trust or by or for the grantor of the trust;
- the grantor and fiduciary, or the fiduciary and beneficiary of any trust;
- a corporation and a partnership if the same persons own over 10% in value of the outstanding stock of the corporation and more than 10% of the capital interest or the profits interest in the partnership;
- two S corporations if the same persons own more than 10% of the outstanding stock of each corporation;
- an S corporation and a regular corporation if the same persons own more than 10% in value of the outstanding stock of each corporation;
- a partnership and a person who owns directly or indirectly, more than 10% of the capital or profits of the partnership;
- two partnerships if the same persons directly or indirectly own more than 10% of the capital or profits or each;
- two persons who are engaged in business under common control; and
- an executor of an estate and a beneficiary of that estate.

Employment number means the average number of individuals employed full-time by the enterprise for at least one half of the tax year. The average number shall be computed by determining the number of individuals employed by the taxpayer on March 31, June 30, September 30, and December 31 during the tax year, adding the number of individuals employed on each of these dates and dividing the total by the number of dates occurring during the tax year. In determining the number of individuals employed on March 31, June 30, September 30, and December 31, do not include individuals employed within the preceding 60 months by a related person to the empire zone as the term related person is defined above, unless the related person was never allowed an empire zone wage tax credit or a zone equivalent area wage tax credit for such employee.

An owner of a new business under Article 22, section 606(a)10, means an individual who is either a sole proprietor or a member of a partnership unless:

- the business entity of which the individual is an owner is substantially similar in operation and in ownership to:
 - a business entity taxable or previously taxable under Article 9-A; Article 9 section 183, 184, 185, or 186; Article 32; or Article 33 of the Tax Law; or
 - a business entity that would have been subject to tax under Article 23 (as it was in effect on January 1, 1980); or
 - a business entity with income or losses that are or were includable under Article 22 if the intent and purpose of section 606(k)(5) with respect to refunding of credit to new business would be evaded; or
- the individual operated the new business entity in New York State for more than five tax years (excluding short tax years of the business).

An owner of a new business under Article 22 also includes a shareholder of a New York S corporation, unless:

- The S corporation is a corporation:
 - in which over 50% of the number of shares of stock entitling their holders to vote for the election of directors or trustees is owned or controlled either directly or indirectly by a taxpayer subject to tax under Article 9-A; Article 9, section 183, 184, 185, or 186; Article 32; or Article 33 of the Tax Law; or
 - that is substantially similar in operation and in ownership to a business entity taxable, or previously taxable, under Article 9-A, Article 9, section 183, 184, 185, or 186; Article 32; Article 33; or Article 23 (the New York State unincorporated business tax as it was in effect on January 1, 1980); or that has income or losses that are or were includable under Article 22 of the Tax Law, whereby the intent and purposes of section 210.19(e) with respect to refunding of credit to new businesses would be evaded.
- The S corporation has been in operation in New York State for more than five tax years (excluding short tax years of the business).

Line instructions

Partners in a partnership, shareholders in a New York S corporation, and beneficiaries of an estate or trust: complete Schedule B, Schedule C and Schedule E, and if applicable, Schedule D and Schedule F.

Fiduciaries and individuals (including sole proprietors): answer question 1. If you checked the Yes box, complete Parts I and II. Then complete all applicable Schedules A through F. If you checked the No box, skip lines 2 through 7, and Schedule A. Then complete all applicable Schedules B through F. However, fiduciaries and individuals should not complete Schedule F unless you elect to claim the refund for new business. For a definition of a new business, see above.

Partnerships complete question 1. If you checked the Yes box, complete Parts I and Part II. Then complete Schedule A. If you checked the No box at question 1, STOP, you cannot claim an EZ wage tax credit for tax year 2002.

If as a sole proprietor or partnership (or LLC that is treated as a sole proprietor or partnership for federal purposes) you are claiming the empire zone wage tax credit for more than one business, or you have employees in more than one zone, complete line 1, Part I, Part II, and Schedule A for each business or zone on separate Form(s) IT-601. Combine all Form IT-601 line 14 amounts on one Form IT-601 entering the total on line 19.

Eligibility requirements

Line 1— Check the Yes box if you paid EZ wages during the current tax year.

Check the No box if you did not pay EZ wages during the current tax year. You do not qualify to compute the EZ wage tax credit in Schedule A for the current tax year. However, you may claim as a EZ wage tax credit for the current tax year any EZ wage tax credit carryforward from a preceding tax year in Schedule E.

Part I — Computation of average number of full-time employees in New York State for the current tax year and four-year test period

Enter for each date specified of the current tax year the number of full-time employees in New York State.

Line 2 — Add the number of these employees on each date for the current tax year in the table and divide by the number of such dates occurring during the current tax year to obtain the average number of full-time employees for the current tax year.

If the taxpayer provided full-time employment for only part of the current tax year, then the current tax year will be deemed to refer to that part.

Example:

Current tax year	March 31	June 30	Sept 30	Dec 31	Total
Number of full-time employees in New York State - 2002	0	100	125	175	400
2. Average number of full-time employees in New York State for current tax year (400 divided by 4)					2	100

Enter for each date specified of the four-year period immediately preceding the first tax year in which the EZ wage tax credit is claimed (i.e., the four-year test period), the number of full-time employees in New York State.

Line 3 — Add the number of full-time employees on each date for the four-year test period in the table and divide by the number of such dates occurring during the four-year test period to obtain the average number of full-time employees for the four-year test period.

If the taxpayer provided full-time employment in New York State for only part of the four years immediately preceding the first year in which the EZ wage tax credit is claimed, then the four-year period will be deemed to refer to that part.

If the taxpayer did not provide full-time employment in New York State in any of the four years immediately preceding the first year in which the EZ wage tax credit is claimed, enter "0" on line 3.

Example:

Number of full-time employees in New York State during four-year test period	March 31	June 30	September 30	December 31	Total
1st year - 2001	100	100	100	100	400
2nd year - 2000	50	75	75	100	300
3rd year - 1999			40	50	90
4th year - 1998
Total number of full-time employees in New York State for four-year test period					790
3. Average number of full-time employees in New York State for four-year test period
Average number of full-time employees on line 2 must exceed average number of full-time employees on line 3					3	79*

* If the taxpayer began providing full time employment in New York State on July 1, 1999, and had full time employees in New York State for the dates September 30, 1999, through December 31, 2001, the taxpayer would make no entries for the dates prior to July 1, 1999. Thus, the taxpayer would divide 790 by 10 to obtain 79.

Line 4 — The average number of full-time employees in New York State for the current tax year (line 2) must exceed the average number of full-time employees in New York State for the four-year test period (line 3). If you answer No, you do not qualify to compute the EZ wage tax credit in Schedule A for the current tax year. However, you may claim as an EZ wage tax credit for the current tax year any EZ wage tax credit carryforward from a preceding tax year in Schedule E.

Part II — Computation of average number of full-time employees in EZ for the current tax year and four-year test period

Enter for each date specified of the current tax year the number of full-time employees in the EZ.

Line 5 — Compute the average number of full-time employees for the current tax year in the table in the same manner as line 2.

Enter for each date specified of the four-year period immediately preceding the first tax year in which the EZ wage tax credit is claimed (i.e., the four-year test period), the number of full-time employees in the area that currently constitutes the EZ.

Line 6 — Compute the average number of such employees for the four-year test period in the same manner as line 3.

Line 7 — The average number of full-time employees in the EZ for the current tax year (line 5) must exceed the average number of full-time employees in the area that currently constitutes the EZ for the four-year test period (line 6). If you answer No, you do not qualify to compute the EZ wage tax credit in Schedule A for the current tax year. However, you may claim as an EZ wage tax credit for the current tax year any EZ wage tax credit carryforward from a preceding tax year in Schedule E.

Schedule A — Computation of EZ wage tax credit for the current tax yearPart I — Computation of EZ wage tax credit for targeted employees

Enter for each date specified of the current tax year the number of qualified employees who meet all three of the following requirements:

- were targeted employees; and
- received EZ wages for more than half of the current tax year (see Example below); and
- received an hourly wage that is at least 135% of the minimum wage specified in section 652 of the Labor Law for more than half of the employee's period of employment during the current tax year.

Line 8 — Add the number of qualified employees for the current tax year in the table and divide by the number of such dates (include "0" dates) occurring during the current tax year to obtain the average number of qualified employees for the current tax year (see the example at line 2 instructions).

Example:

On March 1, 2002, a calendar-year taxpayer, located in an EZ, applies for certification under Article 18-B of the General Municipal Law. The taxpayer is notified that such certification is effective September 1, 2002. For purposes of the EZ wage tax credit, the taxpayer is deemed to have been certified as of January 1, 2002, the first day of the taxpayer's taxable year in which the taxpayer applied for certification. The taxpayer files a tax return for the tax year January 1, 2002 - December 31, 2002. Assuming the taxpayer met the eligibility requirements, the taxpayer would include in Schedule A, Part I, line 8, and Part II, line 11, any qualified employees who received EZ wages for more than six months of the tax year January 1, 2002 - December 31, 2002. If the taxpayer filed a tax return for the short tax year September 1, 2002 - December 31, 2002, the taxpayer would include in Schedule A, Part I, line 8, and Part II, line 11, any qualified employees who received EZ wages for more than two months of the tax year September 1, 2002 - December 31, 2002.

Part II — Computation of EZ wage tax credit for employees not included in Schedule A, Part I

Enter for each date specified of the current tax year the number of qualified employees who meet both of the following requirements:

- were not included in Schedule A, Part I, line 8; and
- received EZ wages for more than half of the current tax year (see Example at line 8 instructions above).

Line 11 — Add the number of qualified employees for the current tax year in the table and divide by the number of such dates (include "0" dates) occurring during the current tax year to obtain the average number of qualified employees for the current tax year (see the example at line 2 instructions).

Any portion of the EZ wage tax credit (including any wage tax credit carryforward from a preceding tax year) that is disallowed in the current tax year as a result of the limitation may be carried forward. If line 27 is larger than line 24 enter “0.”

Schedule F — Computation of refundable portion of EZ wage tax credit

Line 29 — Certain taxpayers may elect to treat a portion of the current year’s EZ wage tax credit available as a carryforward as an overpayment of tax to be refunded. The election applies to an EZ wage tax credit computed for a current tax year beginning on or after January 1, 1994. Any EZ wage tax credit or EZ wage tax credit carryforward computed for a tax year beginning before January 1, 1994, does not qualify.

The election may be made by an Article 22 taxpayer qualifying as the owner of a new business under section 606(a)10.

Once made, the election may not be revoked. Interest will not be paid on any overpayment of tax refunded on line 31.
