

Instructions for Form IT-641

Manufacturer's Real Property Tax Credit

Tax law – Article 22, Section 606(xx)

IT-641-I

General information

For tax years beginning on or after January 1, 2014, the manufacturer's real property tax credit is available to eligible taxpayers subject to tax under Articles 9-A and 22. Individuals (including sole proprietors), estates and trusts, shareholders of an S corporation, partners in a partnership (including a member of a limited liability company (LLC) that is treated as a partnership for federal income tax purposes), and beneficiaries of an estate or trust may claim the credit on Form IT-641.

Eligibility

To be eligible for this credit, you must meet all of the following requirements:

- you are subject to tax under Tax Law Article 9-A or 22;
- you are a qualified New York manufacturer (you must meet the definition of a qualified New York manufacturer each year); and
- you paid real property taxes on property in New York State that is owned or leased by you, the manufacturer, and is principally used during the tax year for manufacturing, processing, assembling, refining, mining, extracting, farming, agriculture, horticulture, floriculture, viticulture, or commercial fishing.

Credit information

The credit is equal to the product of the following two factors:

- 20% and
- the eligible real property taxes paid during the tax year.

To qualify for the credit, the real property taxes must be paid by the taxpayer in the year such taxes become a lien on the real property and must be for real property:

- located in New York, and
- principally used during the tax year for manufacturing, processing, assembling, refining, mining, extracting, farming, agriculture, horticulture, floriculture, viticulture, or commercial fishing.

The taxpayer must exclude property taxes that apply to areas of the property that are not involved in the production of goods by any of the above activities. Examples of areas that need to be excluded include common areas, vacant land, parking lots, etc. The amount of property taxes to be excluded may be allocated based upon square footage.

Any real property taxes used as the basis for computing this credit may not be used as the basis for any other credit under the Tax Law.

If you deducted real property taxes in computing federal taxable income, you must add back to federal adjusted gross income the amount of real property taxes deducted to the extent used as the basis for the calculation of this credit, on the appropriate form.

Any unused amount of credit for the current tax year will be treated as a refund or overpayment of tax to be credited to next year's tax. Interest will not be paid on the refund or overpayment.

Credit recapture

A portion of the credit must be recaptured if the amount of the real property taxes on which the credit was calculated is subsequently reduced by a final order in any proceeding under Real Property Tax Law Article 7 or any other provision of law. For more information, see Schedule E – Computation of credit recapture.

How to claim the credit

File Form IT-641 if you are an individual, a beneficiary or fiduciary of an estate or trust, a partner in a partnership (including members of an LLC treated as a partnership for federal tax purposes), or a shareholder of an S corporation, and you are claiming the manufacturer's real property tax credit.

An estate or trust that divides the credit among itself and its beneficiaries must submit Form IT-641 with Form IT-205, Fiduciary Income Tax Return, showing each beneficiary's share of the credit.

A partnership must submit Form IT-641 with Form IT-204, Partnership Return, showing the total credit.

A New York S corporation does not file Form IT-641. It must file Form CT-641, Manufacturer's Real Property Tax Credit. If you are a shareholder of an S corporation, obtain your share of the manufacturer's real property tax credit from the S corporation and follow the instructions on this form for claiming the credit on your personal income tax return.

Definitions

A qualified New York manufacturer is a manufacturer that either (1) has property in New York State of the type described for the investment tax credit under Tax Law section 210.12(b)(i)(A)* that has an adjusted basis for federal income tax purposes of at least $1 million at the end of the tax year, or (2) has all its real and personal property in New York State.

*Tangible personal property and other tangible property, including buildings and structural components of buildings, which: are depreciable pursuant to Internal Revenue Code (IRC), section 167; have a useful life of four years or more; are acquired by purchase as defined in IRC section 179(d); have a situs in the state; and are principally used by the taxpayer in the production of goods by manufacturing, processing, assembling, refining, mining, extracting, farming, agriculture, horticulture, floriculture, viticulture, or commercial fishing.

A taxpayer or combined group that does not satisfy the principally engaged test (see the definition of manufacturer below) may be a qualified New York manufacturer if the taxpayer or the combined group employs at least 2500 employees during the tax year in manufacturing, processing, assembling, refining, mining, extracting, farming, agriculture, horticulture, floriculture, viticulture, or commercial fishing in New York and the taxpayer or combined group has property in the state used in these activities, the adjusted basis of which for federal income tax purposes at the close of the tax year is at least $100 million.

Note: A qualified emerging technology company (QETC) is not considered a qualified New York manufacturer for purposes of this credit. A taxpayer is a QETC if it meets the definition of Public Authorities Law, section 3102-e(1)(c), except that the $10 million limitation under section 3102-e(1)(c)(1) does not apply.

A manufacturer is a taxpayer or combined group that is principally engaged in the production of goods by manufacturing, processing, assembling, refining, mining, extracting, farming, agriculture, horticulture, floriculture, viticulture, or commercial fishing during the tax year.

However, the generation and distribution of electricity, the distribution of natural gas, and the production of steam associated with the generation of electricity are not qualifying activities for a manufacturer.

A taxpayer or combined group is principally engaged in manufacturing if more than 50% of the gross receipts of the taxpayer or the combined group during the tax year are derived from the sale of goods produced by the above activities. In computing a combined group's gross receipts, intercorporate receipts are eliminated.

Real property tax means a charge imposed upon real property by or on behalf of a county, city, town, village, or school district for municipal or school district purposes, provided that the charge is levied for the general public welfare by the proper taxing authorities at a like rate against all property over which such authorities have jurisdiction, and provided that where taxes are levied pursuant to Real Property Tax Law, Articles 18 or 19, the property must have been taxed at the rate determined for the class in which it is contained, as provided by such article, whichever is applicable.

The term real property tax includes taxes paid by the taxpayer on real property principally used during the tax year by the taxpayer in manufacturing where the taxpayer leases such real property from an unrelated third party if the following conditions are satisfied:

- the tax must be paid by the taxpayer as lessee pursuant to explicit requirements in a written lease, and
- the taxpayer as lessee has paid such taxes directly to the taxing authority and has received a written receipt for payment of taxes from the taxing authority.

The term real property tax does not include a payment made by the taxpayer in connection with an agreement for the payment in lieu of taxes (PILOT) on real property, whether such property is owned or leased by the taxpayer.

The term real property tax does not include a charge for local benefits, including any portion of that charge that is properly allocated to the costs attributable to maintenance or interest, when:

- the property subject to the charge is limited to the property that benefits from the charge;
- the amount of the charge is determined by the benefit to the property assessed; or
- the improvement for which the charge is assessed tends to increase the property value.

An unrelated third party is any individual or entity who does not meet the definition of a related person under IRC, section 465(b)(3)(C). The Internal Revenue Service (IRS) interpretation of the definition of a related person is contained in IRS Publication 925, Passive Activity and At-Risk Rules.
