Who must file

Section 77 of the Cooperative Corporations Law exempts certain cooperative corporations from all franchise, license, or corporation taxes. In place of those taxes the following corporations must file this form and pay an annual license fee of $10:

- Cooperative corporations, with or without capital stock, organized for the purpose of cooperative marketing of agricultural products;
- Cooperative corporations, with or without capital stock, organized for the purpose of making loans to their members producing agricultural products;

- Cooperative corporations, with or without capital stock, organized for the purpose of purchasing food products for sale to their members where such purchasing cooperative corporation has gross receipts from such sales of less than $500,000 in a calendar year;
- Cooperative corporations organized without capital stock that have federal Internal Revenue Code (IRC) section 501(c)(12) status and are organized for producing and/or distributing district heating and/or cooling services solely for use by their members. The heating or cooling facility must be located in a city with a population of more than 200,000 but less than 300,000, and must have at least 35% of the service, as measured by relative thermal usage, distributed to and used by members who:
 - qualify as certain exempt organizations under the New York State Sales and Use Tax Law (for example, governmental, educational, charitable, religious); or
 - qualify as cooperative corporations organized without stock, that have federal IRC section 501(c)(12) status.

In addition, the following must file this form and pay the fee:

- Certain organizations exempt from sales tax under the New York State Sales and Use Tax Law (for example, governmental, educational, charitable, religious) that are members of the cooperative corporations providing the heating and/or cooling services described above.
- The cooperative corporations organized without stock that have federal IRC section 501(c)(12) status and are members of the cooperative corporations providing the heating and/or cooling services described above.

Types of cooperative corporations that are not required to file this form, are:

- Agricultural cooperative corporations with capital stock organized for the sole purpose of raising crops.
- Cooperative corporations with capital stock that operate for a profit are taxable under Tax Law Article 9-A. (See Form CT-3, General Business Corporation Franchise Tax Return.)
