Who must file Form CT-33

- Domestic life insurance corporations for the privilege of exercising a corporate franchise.
- Foreign and alien life insurance corporations doing business, employing capital, owning or leasing property, or maintaining an office in this state.
- Any life insurance company whose Certificate of Authority from the Superintendent of Financial Services has expired, or that ceases to transact new business in this state, but has business remaining in force in this state.
- Life insurance corporations exempt from federal income tax but that conduct business in New York State.
- An unauthorized life insurance corporation that is affiliated with an insurer licensed in New York State and is operating from an office within the state pursuant to New York State Insurance Law sections 1101(b)(5) and 2117(i). See TSB-M-00(1)C, Amended Definition of Insurance Corporation, for additional information.

An unauthorized non-life insurance corporation, as well as an unauthorized life insurance corporation, doing business, employing capital, owning or leasing property in New York State in a corporate or organized capacity, or maintaining an office in New York State is subject to a franchise tax under Tax Law, Article 33, section 1501(a). The tax is then computed under Article 33 section 1502, which provides that such tax shall be the greatest amount of tax computed on four basis: (1) a tax on allocated entire net income (ENI); (2) a tax on allocated business and investment capital; (3) a tax on a prescribed portion of ENI, plus salaries and other compensation of elected or appointed officers and certain stockholders; or (4) a fixed dollar minimum tax of $250, plus a tax on allocated subsidiary capital. An unauthorized insurance corporation is not subject to the premiums tax under Tax Law, Article 33, section 1502-a and must file Form CT-33. Additionally, when filing Form CT-33 the unauthorized insurance corporation is not subject to the additional premiums tax under Article 33 section 1510 or the limitations on tax under Article 33 section 1505. For more information, see TSB-A-09(2)C, Service Lloyds Insurance Company, and TSB-M-12(4)C, Filing Requirements and the Calculation of Tax for Unauthorized Insurance Corporations.

Exceptions: Life insurance corporations specifically exempted by Tax Law, Article 33, section 1512 do not have to file Form CT-33. Captive insurance companies licensed by the Superintendent of Financial Services under Insurance Law Article 70 must file Form CT-33-C, Captive Insurance Company Franchise Tax Return. Combinable captive insurance companies must file on a combined return under Article 9-A with their closest controlling stockholder, as applicable. For-profit health maintenance organizations (HMOs) are required to file Form CT-33-NL, Non-Life Insurance Corporation Franchise Tax Return.

Definition of insurance corporation – An insurance corporation (as defined in Tax Law, Article 33, section 1500) is any corporation, association, joint stock company or association, person, society, aggregation, or partnership, doing an insurance business. The term insurance corporation also includes an HMO required to obtain a certificate under Article 44 of the Public Health Law. It does not include any combinable captive insurance company.

Combined filing rules – A taxpayer must file a combined return with any related corporations if there are substantial intercorporate transactions among the related corporations, regardless of the transfer price for such intercorporate transactions.

To determine if there are substantial intercorporate transactions, the Commissioner of Taxation and Finance considers and evaluates all activities and transactions of the taxpayer and its related corporations. For examples of related corporations and a list of activities and transactions considered to determine if there are substantial intercorporate transactions, see Who must file a combined return on Form CT-33-A-I, Instructions for Forms CT-33-A, CT-33-A/ATT, and CT-33-A/B.

A captive real estate investment trust (REIT) (as defined in Tax Law, Article 1, section 2.9) or a captive regulated investment company (RIC) (as defined in Tax Law, Article 1, section 2.10) must file a combined return with the closest corporation that directly or indirectly owns or controls over 50% of the voting stock of the captive REIT or the captive RIC if that corporation is a life insurance company. In addition, a qualified REIT subsidiary must be included in the combined return of its captive REIT parent if the captive REIT is required to be included in a combined return.

ENI for a captive REIT and ENI for a captive RIC generally have the same meaning as the terms REIT taxable income and investment company taxable income as such terms are defined under the Internal Revenue Code (IRC) (Tax Law, Article 33, section 1515(f)(5)(ii)). However, the deduction allowed by the IRC for dividends paid by the captive REIT or captive RIC to any member of the affiliated group that includes the corporation that directly or indirectly owns or controls over 50% of the voting stock of the captive REIT or captive RIC will not be allowed.

For the most recent information on combined filing requirements, visit our website.

Specific instructionsMetropolitan transportation business tax (MTA surcharge)
Article 33 section 1505-a

Any insurance corporation taxable under Article 33 that does business, employs capital, owns or leases property, or maintains an office in the Metropolitan Commuter Transportation District (MCTD) must file Form CT-33-M, Insurance Corporation MTA Surcharge Return, and pay the MTA surcharge imposed by section 1505-a. The MCTD includes the counties of New York, Bronx, Kings, Queens, Richmond, Dutchess, Nassau, Orange, Putnam, Rockland, Suffolk, and Westchester. Corporations not doing business in the MCTD must disclaim liability for the tax surcharge by marking an X in the No box on page 1 of Form CT-33. They are not required to file Form CT-33-M.

Amended return

If you are filing an amended return, mark an X in the Amended return box on the top of Form CT-33.

If you file an amended federal return, you must file an amended New York State return within 90 days (120 days if filing an amended combined return) thereafter.

For amended returns based on changes by the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) – If any of the taxable income amounts listed here have been changed or corrected by a final determination of the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, you must file an amended return reflecting the federal changes within 90 days (120 days if filing an amended combined return) of the final federal determination. For a definition of final determination, see New York Codes, Rules, and Regulations (NYCRR), Title 20, section 6-1.3(b).

- Life insurance company taxable income.
- Taxable income of a partnership.
- Taxable income or alternative minimum taxable income of any taxpayer.

You must attach a copy of federal Form 4549, Income Tax Examination Changes, to your amended return.

For credits or refunds based upon carryback of a net operating loss (NOL) – To claim a credit or refund resulting from the carryback of an NOL to a prior year, file an amended return within 90 days (120 days if filing an amended combined return) from the date of the document indicating approval of the federal refund or credit.

You must attach the following to your amended return:

- federal claim Form 1139, Corporation Application for Tentative Refund, amended Form 1120-L, U.S. Life Insurance Company Income Tax Return, or amended Form 1120-PC, U.S. Property and Casualty Insurance Company Return;
- a copy of the New York State return for the loss year; and
- proof of federal refund approval, Statement of Adjustment to Your Account.

For credits or refunds of corporation tax paid – To claim any refund type that requires an amended return, other than an NOL carryback (see For credits or refunds based upon carryback of a net operating loss (NOL)), file an amended New York State return for the year being amended and, if applicable, attach a copy of the claim form filed with the IRS and proof of federal refund approval, Statement of Adjustment to Your Account.

The amended return must be filed within three years of the date the original return was filed or within two years of the date the tax was paid, whichever is later. If you did not file an original return, you must make the request within two years of the date the tax was paid. However, a claim for credit or refund based on a federal change must be filed within two years from the time the amended return reporting the change or correction was required to be filed (see For amended returns based on changes by the Internal Revenue Service (IRS)). For additional limitations on credits or refunds, see Tax Law, Article 27, section 1087.

Erroneously paid or illegally or unconstitutionally imposed retaliatory taxes or other charges – Tax Law, Article 33, section 1511(c) requires a taxpayer to recompute its retaliatory tax credit and recalculate its insurance franchise tax and metropolitan transportation business tax (MTA surcharge) in instances where another state reduces the amount of retaliatory tax due. The credit recomputation must be based on the tax year for which the retaliatory tax was reduced and applied against the corresponding tax year liability. Adjustments to the amount of credit and retaliatory tax may not be offset by credit earned in a different tax period.

The taxpayer may report the refund or credit of, or reduction in, retaliatory taxes paid to another state, and the recalculation of the Article 33 tax and the MTA surcharge, by either amending its return for the year in which the retaliatory taxes were claimed as a credit or providing a schedule of the recalculation of the credit, tax, and MTA surcharge liability to the Audit Division, to be mailed to the address under Retaliatory tax credits.

The schedule, or amended return, is due within 90 days of the issuance of a final determination by competent authority that a refund or credit is due for retaliatory taxes or other charges imposed or assessed by another state. In all instances, the amended return or schedule must be accompanied by the payment of the additional tax and surcharge owed (Tax Law, Article 27, section 1081(i) and Article 33, section 1515(e)(2)).

Final return

If you no longer meet any of the filing requirements under Who must file Form CT-33, mark an X in the Final return box on the top of Form CT-33. However, do not mark an X in the box if you are only changing the New York State franchise tax return you will be filing for your next tax period (for example, from Form CT-33 to Form CT-33-A, or to Form CT-33-NL). In the case of a merger or consolidation, only the nonsurviving corporation would mark an X in the box.

Reporting period

Use this tax return for calendar year 2021 and fiscal years that begin in 2021 and end in 2022.

You can also use the 2021 return if:

- you have a tax year of less than 12 months that begins and ends in 2022, and
- the 2022 return is not yet available at the time you are required to file the return.

In this case you must show your 2022 tax year on the 2021 return and take into account any tax law changes that are effective for tax years beginning after December 31, 2021.

All filers must complete the beginning and ending tax year boxes in the upper right corner on page 1 of the form.

Important identifying information

When preparing your corporation tax return, be sure to accurately complete the corporation's identifying information (employer identification number (EIN) and file number) including your current address. Keep a record of your identifying information for future use. If you use a paid preparer or accounting firm, make sure they use your complete and accurate information when completing all your forms.

Signature

The return must be certified by the president, vice president, treasurer, assistant treasurer, chief accounting officer, or other officer authorized by the taxpayer corporation.

The return of an association, publicly traded partnership, or business conducted by a trustee or trustees must be signed by a person authorized to act for the association, publicly traded partnership, or business.

If an outside individual or firm prepared the return, all applicable entries in the paid preparer section must be completed, including identification numbers (see Paid preparer identification numbers in Form CT-1). Failure to sign the return will delay the processing of any refunds and may result in penalties.

Schedule A – Allocation of reinsurance premiums when location of risks cannot be determined

Complete this schedule to allocate reinsurance premiums to New York State when the location or residence of the property or risks covered by the reinsurance cannot be determined. This schedule must be completed for premiums assumed from authorized companies.

Column C – Enter the percentage each ceding corporation's New York premiums bear to its total premiums for the preceding tax year (reinsurance allocation percentage). You may obtain this percentage from tax service publications or by calling the Corporation Tax Information Center (see Need help? in Form CT-1). If the ceding corporation did not do business in New York State during the preceding year and therefore did not file a New York State tax return, the percentage is zero.

Schedule B – Computation of allocation percentage

A taxpayer doing business both inside and outside New York State may allocate its business and investment capital, ENI, and ENI plus compensation.

Compute the income allocation percentage by adding the percentages of the taxpayer's premiums allocated to New York State (multiplied by nine) and payroll allocated to New York State, and dividing the total by ten. For both the numerator and denominator of the premium allocation percentage, the term premium includes all amounts received as consideration for insurance, reinsurance and annuity contracts, including premium deposits, assessments, policy fees, membership fees, and all other compensation for such contracts.

Line 31 – Authorized life insurance corporations: Enter the total New York taxable premiums received from life insurance from line 86, column A, plus any additional premiums on these types of policies that were written, procured, or received in New York on business that cannot be specifically assigned as located or resident in any other state or states that were not included on line 86 (attach schedules for such additional premiums). Do not include in this amount any separate costs assessed by the insurance corporation upon its policyholders. See Tax Law, Article 33, section 1504(b)(2)(A). Include any New York premiums for long-term care insurance policies under United States Code, Title 5, Chapter 90, and any New York premiums for federal group life insurance policies under United States Code, Title 5, Chapter 87, when computing the premium percentage. Unauthorized insurance corporations: Follow all of these same line instructions as if you were required to complete line 86.

Line 32 – Enter the total ocean marine premiums written, procured, or received on property or risks located or resident in New York State, plus ocean marine premiums written within New York State on property or risks that cannot be specifically assigned as located or resident in any other state or country. See Tax Law section 1504(b)(2)(C).

Line 33 – Enter the total of premiums for annuity contracts and insurance for the elderly that are written, procured, or received on risks located or resident in New York State, and those premiums for annuity contracts and insurance for the elderly written, procured, or received in New York State on business that cannot be specifically assigned as located or resident in any other state or states.

Line 34 – Enter the total New York premiums on reinsurance assumed from authorized companies. Include premiums allocated to New York State where the location of the risk cannot be determined (line 30) and premiums from risks located in New York State. Also include reinsurance premiums assumed from unauthorized companies that relate to transactions authorized under Insurance Law section 2105 and that are subject to the premiums tax on excess-lines brokers under Insurance Law section 2118.

Line 36 – Enter the total amount of New York premiums included on line 35 that were ceded to other insurance companies.

Attach a separate schedule showing the computation of New York premiums included on lines 31 through 36.

Line 38 – You must report total premiums on a written or paid-for basis, consistent with the basis required by the annual statement filed with the Superintendent of Financial Services.

First, determine total gross premiums, deposit premiums, and assessments, less returns thereon, on all policies, annuity contracts, certificates, renewals, policies subsequently canceled, and insurance and reinsurance executed, issued, or delivered on property or risks, including premiums for reinsurance assumed. Include only those special risk premiums written, procured, or received in New York State on risks located or resident in New York State.

From the total amount determined, deduct dividends on total premiums and premiums on reinsurance ceded. When computing the dividend deduction, include unused or unabsorbed portions of premium deposits paid or credited to policyholders, but not deferred dividends paid in cash to policyholders on maturing policies or cash surrender values.

Attach a separate schedule showing the computation of total premiums included on line 38.

Lines 41 and 42 – Enter total wages, salaries, personal service compensation, and commissions for the tax year of employees, agents, and representatives regularly connected with or working out of an office or place of business maintained within New York State on line 41. It does not matter where the services were performed.

Enter total wages, salaries, personal service compensation, and commissions for the tax year of all employees, agents, and representatives on line 42.

Include on both lines any commissions or personal service compensation derived from policies for a long-term care insurance policy under United States Code, Title 5, Chapter 90, and from policies for federal group life insurance under United States Code, Title 5, Chapter 87, when computing the payroll percentage.

Attach a separate schedule indicating how you computed the amounts shown on lines 41 and 42 and where these amounts are shown on the federal return.

Line 45 – If the premiums factor is missing from line 39, the income allocation percentage is the payroll factor percentage on line 43. If the payroll factor is missing from line 43, the income allocation percentage is the premium factor percentage on line 39. A factor is missing if both its numerator and denominator are zero. If the numerator is zero and the denominator has a positive figure, the factor has an allocation value of 0% and is included in the computation of the allocation percentage.

Schedule C – Computation and allocation of subsidiary capital

Subsidiary capital – A subsidiary is a corporation of which over 50% of the voting stock is owned by the taxpayer. The term subsidiary capital means all investments in the capital stock of subsidiary corporations, plus all indebtedness from subsidiary corporations (other than accounts receivable acquired in the ordinary course of trade or business for services rendered, or for sales of property held primarily for sale to customers). When computing the amount of indebtedness owed to the taxpayer by its subsidiaries, consider each subsidiary separately. Loans and advances from the parent to the subsidiary may be offset by loans and advances from the same subsidiary to the parent, but may not be reduced to less than zero. Loans and advances from a subsidiary to the parent may not offset the parent's investment in the stock of the subsidiary, or offset loans and advances from the parent to any other subsidiary.

This indebtedness, whether or not evidenced by bonds or other written instruments, qualifies as subsidiary capital as long as the subsidiary does not claim and deduct the interest for the purpose of taxation under any Tax Law article.

Column C – Average fair market value – Enter the average fair market value of each item of subsidiary capital listed in column A. The fair market value of an asset is the price (without deduction of any encumbrance) at which a willing seller will sell and a willing buyer will buy. The fair market value, on any date, of stocks, bonds, and other securities regularly traded on an exchange or in the over-the-counter market is the mean between the highest and lowest selling prices on that date. Average value is generally computed quarterly if your usual accounting practice permits it. However, you may use a more frequent basis such as monthly, weekly, or daily. If your usual accounting practice does not permit a quarterly or more frequent computation of the average value of assets, you may use a semiannual or annual computation if no distortion of average fair market value results.

Column D – Average value of current liabilities attributable to subsidiary capital – Each item of subsidiary capital must be reduced by any liabilities of the taxpayer (parent) payable by their terms on demand or not more than one year from the date incurred. These liabilities do not include loans or advances outstanding for more than a year, as of any date during the year covered by the return.

Column F – Allocation percentage – Enter the percentage of the entire capital or the issued capital stock or the gross direct premiums or net income of each issuing corporation allocable to New York State as determined on the corporation's New York State tax return for the preceding tax year. If the issuing corporation did not do business in New York State during the preceding year and therefore did not file a New York State tax return, the percentage is zero. If the subsidiary is an Article 9-A filer, use the preceding tax year's business apportionment factor; if the subsidiary is an Article 33 filer of Form CT-33 or CT-33-A, use the preceding tax year's allocation percentage; if the subsidiary is an Article 33 filer of Form CT-33-NL, use the preceding tax year's issuer's allocation percentage.

Schedule D – Computation and allocation of business and investment capital

Definition of capital – Total capital is the average fair market value of all the corporation's assets minus its average current liabilities.

Valuation of capital – Business and investment capital is total capital minus subsidiary capital. It does not include assets that are held to maintain reserves of an insurance corporation as required under New York State Insurance Law sections 1303, 1304, and 1305. In computing business and investment capital, you are normally required to value assets at fair market value. But in valuing real and tangible personal property, you may elect to substitute book values for these assets; that is, the value established and regularly kept on the books of the company. If you make this election you must so indicate on each return. Once you have made the election, it is binding for all subsequent tax years and cannot be changed without prior permission. You must value stocks, bonds, and other securities at fair market value.

Average fair market value – The fair market value of an asset is the price (without deduction of any encumbrance) at which a willing seller will sell and a willing buyer will buy. The fair market value, on any date, of stocks, bonds, and other securities regularly traded on an exchange or in the over-the-counter market is the mean between the highest and lowest selling prices on that date. Average value is generally computed quarterly if your usual accounting practice permits it. However, you may use a more frequent basis such as monthly, weekly, or daily. If your usual accounting practice does not permit a quarterly or more frequent computation of the average value of assets, you may use a semiannual or annual computation if no distortion of average fair market value results.

Line 50 – Attach copies of your Assets Schedule of the Annual Statement reflecting admitted and nonadmitted assets for both the previous tax year and the current tax year.

Line 52 – Current liabilities – Include only liabilities maturing in one year or less from the date originally incurred. Do not include loans or advances outstanding for more than a year as of any date during the year covered by this return, notes payable that are renewed from year to year, or the current portion of a long-term liability. Do not include reserves required under New York State Insurance Law sections 1303, 1304, and 1305. Use the same method of averaging used to determine average fair market value of assets.

Lines 52 and 56 – Attach copies of your Liabilities, Surplus and Other Funds Schedule of the Annual Statement.

Schedule E – Computation of adjustment for gains or losses on disposition of property acquired before January 1, 1974

Tax Law, Article 33, section 1503(b)(5) details the adjustments you must make when reporting the gain or loss from sale or exchange of property acquired before January 1, 1974.

Columns B, D, and F – Enter the amounts used in computing federal taxable income (FTI).

Column C – The fair market price or value is the price at which a willing seller will sell and a willing buyer will buy.

Column E

- If both the amounts entered in columns B and C are less than the amount entered in column D, a New York gain is realized. Enter in column E the difference between column D and the higher of column B or C.
- If both the amounts entered in columns B and C are more than the amount entered in column D, a New York loss is sustained. Enter in column E (use a minus (-) sign) the difference between column D and the lower of column B or C.
- If only one of the amounts entered in column B or C is more than the amount entered in column D, no New York gain is realized. Enter 0 in column E.

Schedule G – Computation and allocation of ENI

Line 62 – Enter the amount of life insurance company taxable income (LICTI) (including, in the case of a stock life insurance company, the phased inclusion [one-eighth] of the balance in existing policyholders surplus accounts that was required to be included in FTI), plus the NOL deduction included in LICTI as reported to the U.S. Treasury Department for the tax year. Corporations filing federal Form 1120-PC must enter the total of taxable income per Schedule A, plus any NOL deduction included in taxable income as reported to the U.S. Treasury Department for the tax year. Companies having an amount of excess inclusion as a result of having a residual interest in a real estate mortgage investment conduit (REMIC), must properly reflect this income in FTI. Corporations exempt from federal income tax but subject to tax under Article 33 must enter the taxable income which would have been required to be reported to the U.S. Treasury Department.

If you are a partner in a partnership(s), and the ordinary business income (loss) amount reported to you on federal Schedule K-1 received from such partnership(s) reflects any income or deduction items of the partnership that New York State decoupled from under New York State Tax Law Article 22, § 607(a), you must adjust your LICTI to reflect such decoupling. The Article 22 decoupling is for any amendments made to the IRC of 1986 after March 1, 2020, and impacts tax years beginning before January 1, 2022.

Your partnership(s) is required to provide you the amounts needed for you to properly adjust your LICTI. If your partnership(s) does not provide you with the necessary information to make the adjustment, you are responsible for obtaining the information from the partnership. Report the adjusted LICTI on line 62.

Line 70 – Use this line if:

- For NOLs incurred, refer to IRC section 172 for carryback and carryforward periods.
- If you have elected for federal purposes to relinquish the carry back of an NOL, you may not carry back an NOL for state purposes, and you must submit a copy of your federal election.
- The New York State NOL deduction for any particular year is limited to the federal NOL deduction (IRC section 172) for that year.

- No deduction is allowed for an NOL sustained during any year in which the corporation was not subject to tax under Article 33.

Note: Generally, Tax Law, Article 33 conforms, with some modifications, to the federal IRC provisions for NOL deductions, and to the applicable federal carryback and carryforward provisions (see Tax Law section 1503(b)(4)). Schedule H – Computation of premiums

An unauthorized insurance corporation is not subject to the additional premiums tax under section 1510 or the limitations under section 1505, and does not complete Schedule H.

An authorized life insurance corporation subject to Tax Law Article 33 is subject to the additional premiums tax under section 1510, the limitation on tax under section 1505(a)(2) and the floor limitation on tax under section 1505(b). For more information on the floor limitation on tax, see TSB-M-03(9)C, Summary of Insurance Corporation Tax Legislative Changes Enacted in 2003.

Use Schedule H to compute premiums due under sections 1510, 1505(a)(2), and 1505(b) and transfer them to the appropriate boxes on lines 6, 8, and 10. Report direct premiums on a written or paid-for basis, consistent with the basis required by the annual statement filed with the Superintendent of Financial Services. For purposes of computing Schedule H, the term premium includes all amounts received as consideration for insurance or reinsurance contracts, or contracts with HMOs for health services (except annuity contracts), including premium deposits, assessments, policy fees, membership fees, any separate costs by carriers assessed upon their policyholders, and all other consideration for such contracts.

Taxable premiums include gross direct premiums minus return premiums, reinsurance premiums, and dividends paid or credited.

Gross direct premiums – Include total gross premiums, deposit premiums and assessments, less returns thereon, on all policies, certificates, renewals, policies subsequently canceled, insurance and reinsurance executed, issued, or delivered on property or risks located or resident in New York State, and premiums written, procured, or received in New York State on business that cannot be specifically allocated or apportioned and reported as taxable premiums or which have not been used as a measure of a tax on business of any other state or states. Also include special risk premiums written, procured, or received in New York State on risks located or resident in New York State. When computing taxable premiums in column A, do not include premiums on annuity contracts, ocean marine insurance, and policies issued under Insurance Law section 4236. Also exempt from the tax on premiums are premiums on risks located outside the United States which were written, procured, or received in New York State, except for insurance written by foreign and alien title insurance corporations and accident and health insurance.

Note: Gross direct premiums do not include any premiums that New York State cannot tax according to federal law (including premiums received for a long-term care insurance policy under United States Code, Title 5, Chapter 90, and any premiums for federal group life insurance under United States Code, Title 5, Chapter 87).

Line 87 – Life insurance corporations that received more than 95% of their premiums from annuity contracts, ocean marine insurance, and policies issued under Insurance Law section 4236, enter only the New York portion of the amount of such premiums that exceeds 95% of all premiums received, if applicable. Life insurance corporations receiving 95% or less of their premiums from annuity contracts, ocean marine insurance, and policies issued under Insurance Law section 4236, enter 0 on line 87.

Deductions from gross direct premiums

- Reinsurance premiums – When computing gross direct premiums, you may deduct (1) reinsurance premiums, minus return premiums, that have been received by way of reinsurance from corporations or other insurers authorized to transact business in this state, and (2) reinsurance premiums assumed from unauthorized companies that relate to transactions authorized under Insurance Law section 2105 and that are subject to the premiums tax on excess-lines brokers under Insurance Law section 2118.
- Dividends paid or credited – You may deduct dividends on direct premiums and unused or unabsorbed portions of premium deposits paid or credited to policyholders. This deduction does not include deferred dividends paid in cash to policyholders on maturing policies or cash surrender values.
