General information
Form IT-212 is used to claim an investment credit (including the employment incentive credit (EIC) computed on Form IT-212-ATT, Claim for Historic Barn Rehabilitation Credit and Employment Incentive Credit) for qualified property used in manufacturing and production, retail enterprise, waste treatment, pollution control, research and development, or for qualified expenditures incurred in the rehabilitation of a historic barn (submit Form IT-212-ATT with Form IT-212).

Who must file
File Form IT-212 if you are an individual, a beneficiary or fiduciary of an estate or trust, a member of a partnership, or a shareholder of an S corporation, and:
- you are claiming the investment credit (including the historic barn rehabilitation or the EIC); or
- you are claiming a carryover of unused investment credit for manufacturing and production, retail enterprise, waste treatment, pollution control, and research and development property from a prior period; or
- you had an early disposition of property for which the investment credit, retail enterprise credit, or research and development credit was allowed in a prior year.

An estate or trust that divides the credit or addback of credit on early dispositions among itself and its beneficiaries must submit Form IT-212 with Form IT-205, Fiduciary Income Tax Return, showing each beneficiary’s share of the credit or addback of credit on early dispositions.

A partnership must file Form IT-212 with Form IT-204, Partnership Return, showing the partnership’s total investment in qualified property or total early dispositions of qualified property.

An S corporation does not file Form IT-212. It must file Form CT-46, Claim for Investment Tax Credit. If you are a shareholder in an S corporation that has made the election under Tax Law section 660, obtain your share of the corporation’s credit or addback of credit on early dispositions of qualified property from the corporation.

Qualifying investment credit property – The credit is allowed for investment in new or used tangible personal property or other tangible property (including buildings and structural components of buildings) that:
- is acquired, constructed, reconstructed, or erected by the taxpayer after December 31, 1968 (Exception: Property principally used as a qualified film production facility must be placed in service on or after January 1, 2005. A building principally used as a qualified film production facility must have received a final certificate of occupancy after January 1, 2005.);
- is depreciable under Internal Revenue Code (IRC) sections 167 or 168;
- has a useful life of four years or more;
- is acquired by purchase as defined in IRC section 179(d);
- is located in New York State; and
- is one of the following types of property (see Definitions):
  - manufacturing and production property,
  - retail enterprise property,
  - waste treatment property,
  - pollution control property,
  - research and development property, or
  - qualified film production property.

Definitions
Manufacturing and production property is property principally used by the taxpayer in the production of goods by manufacturing, processing, assembling, refining, mining, extracting, farming, agriculture, horticulture, floriculture, viticulture, or commercial fishing.

For this purpose, manufacturing means the process of working raw materials into wares suitable for use or of giving new shapes, new quality, or new combinations to matter which has already gone through some artificial process by the use of machinery, tools, appliances, and other similar equipment.

Property used in the production of goods includes machinery, equipment or other tangible property that is principally used in the repair and service of other machinery, equipment or other tangible property used principally in the production of goods and includes all facilities used in the production operation, including storage of material to be used in production and of the products that are produced. However, automobiles, trucks, and other transportation vehicles or equipment used on public roads are not generally considered qualified property.

Property principally used in the production or distribution of electricity, natural gas after extraction from wells, steam, or water delivered through pipes and mains does not qualify as property used in the production of goods.

Retail enterprise property – If your business is a retail enterprise, you may claim a credit for qualified rehabilitation expenditures paid or incurred on or after June 1, 1981, for a qualified rehabilitated building if:
- you are eligible to claim the federal investment credit solely by reason of IRC sections 46(1) and 47, which provide for a credit for that portion of the basis of a qualified rehabilitated building that relates to qualified rehabilitation expenditures;
- the qualified rehabilitated building is located in New York State; and
- the expenditures are paid or incurred for the portion of the qualified rehabilitated building used by you in the retail sales activity of your retail enterprise.

For this purpose, retail enterprise means a taxpayer that is a registered vendor for New York State sales tax, is primarily engaged in the retail sale of tangible personal property, and is eligible for the federal investment credit under IRC section 38. See Tax Law section 606(a)(11).

Waste treatment property is property used for the treatment, neutralization, or stabilization of industrial waste and other waste (as defined by the Environmental Conservation Law (ECL)) from a point immediately preceding the point of such treatment, neutralization, or stabilization to the point of disposal, including the necessary pumping and transmitting facilities. Waste treatment property does not include facilities installed for the primary purpose of salvaging materials that are usable in the manufacturing process or are marketable.

Pollution control property is property used to remove, reduce, or render less noxious air contaminants emitted from an air contamination source (as defined by the ECL) from a point immediately preceding the point of such removal, reduction, or rendering to the point of discharge of air and meeting emission standards as established by the Department of Environmental Conservation. Pollution control property also includes acid deposition control equipment. Pollution control property does not include facilities installed for the primary purpose of salvaging materials that are usable in the manufacturing process or are marketable, or facilities that rely for their efficiency on dilution, dispersion, or assimilation of air contaminants in the surrounding air after emission.

Research and development (R & D) property is property used for the purpose of research and development in the experimental or laboratory sense. Do not include property used for the ordinary testing or inspection of materials or products for quality control, efficiency surveys, management studies, consumer surveys, advertising, promotions, or research in connection with literary, historical, or similar projects.

Qualified film production property is property principally used as a qualified film production facility, including qualified film production facilities having a situs in an empire zone (EZ) designated as such pursuant to Article 18-B of the General Municipal Law, where the taxpayer is providing three or more services to any qualified film production company using the facility. These include services such as a studio lighting grid, lighting and grip equipment, multline phone service, broadband information technology access, industrial scale electrical capacity, food services, security services, and heating, ventilation, and air conditioning.

Qualified film production facility means a film production facility in the state which contains at least one sound stage having a minimum of seven thousand square feet of contiguous production space.
Directions: This instruction manual is a supplemental guide to the New York State's investment tax credit. It provides detailed guidance on the credit base, carryovers, and various credits associated with the tax year 2020.

Carryover of unused investment credit
If you cannot claim all of this year’s credit because it is more than the New York State tax less other credits, you may carry over the unused amount to the following ten years (see Carryover of unused investment credit below).

Investment credit base
The investment credit is computed on the investment credit base. The investment credit base is the cost or other basis of the qualified property for federal income tax purposes. Do not include any amount that was expensed under IRC section 179(a). The basis of qualified property must include the remaining basis of other property exchanged or traded in for it. If a credit was previously allowed on the property exchanged or traded in, a disposition of property has occurred and you may have to compute an addback of credit on early dispositions (see Part 4 instructions).

If qualified property is acquired to replace insured property that was stolen or destroyed by fire, storm, shipwreck, or other casualty, the basis of the replacement property is its cost reduced by any amount of gain not recognized for federal income tax purposes because the insurance proceeds were invested in the replacement property.

Investment credit base for replacement property that is similar or related in service or use to property destroyed as a direct result of the terrorist attacks of September 11, 2001 – If replacement property is acquired that is similar or related in service or use to the property destroyed as a direct result of the terrorist attacks of September 11, 2001, and you chose not to defer the required amount to be recaptured, the investment credit base of the replacement property is computed without regard to any basis reduction required by IRC section 1033. For more information, see TSB-M-02(7), Investment Tax Credit (ITC) Relief for Property Destroyed as a Direct Result of the Terrorist Attacks of September 11, 2001 (Articles 9-A, 22, 32, and 33).

If the qualified property is purchased using nonqualified recourse financing, the investment credit base must be reduced by the amount of financing that would be excludable from the credit base pursuant to IRC section 49(a)(1). If, at the close of a tax year following the tax year in which the property was placed in service, there is a net decrease in the amount of nonqualified recourse financing with respect to the property, the net decrease is to be treated as the cost or other basis of qualified property acquired, constructed, reconstructed, or erected during the year of the decrease.

Carryover of unused investment credit
If you cannot claim all of this year’s credit because it is more than your New York State tax less other credits, you can carry over the unused amount to the following ten years; or, if you are the owner of a new business, you may qualify for a refund (see Refundable unused investment credit below).

Any unused investment credit carried over from tax years prior to 2009 may not be claimed on your 2019 Form IT-212.
– the theft or destruction of property;
– the revocation of a certificate of compliance for air pollution control property; and – an increase in nonqualified, nonrecourse financing (but the addback of credit only applies for the portion of such increase).

Ordinarily, transfers by reason of death are not dispossession of property.

If qualifying property was disposed of or was not in qualified use at the end of the tax year it was placed in service, compute the amount of credit to claim as follows:

- For property subject to the provisions of IRC section 168, multiply the credit by a fraction; the numerator is the number of months of qualified use, and the denominator is:
  - 36 for three-year property;

  - 60 for all other classes of property.
