General information
The New York State child and dependent care credit is computed based on the amount of your New York adjusted gross income, the number of qualifying persons, and the amount of qualified expenses paid.

The New York City child and dependent care credit can be as much as 75% of the New York State child and dependent care credit, depending on the amount of your recomputed federal adjusted gross income (FAGI).

Who qualifies

New York State credit
Generally, if you qualify to claim the federal child and dependent care credit based on your recomputed FAGI, you can claim the New York State credit (whether you actually claim the federal credit or not).

If you did not file federal Form 2441 to claim the federal child and dependent care credit, you can still claim the New York State child and dependent care credit on Form IT-216 if all four of the following apply:

1. Your filing status is Single, Head of household, Qualifying surviving spouse, or Married filing joint return. However, see special rule for Married persons filing separate federal and New York State returns below.
2. The care was provided so you (and your spouse, if you were married) could work or look for work. However, if you did not find a job and have no earned income for the year, you cannot take the credit. If you or your spouse was a student or disabled, see the lines 6 and 7 instructions on page 5.
3. Your child (or other qualifying person(s) for whom the care was provided) lived in the same home with you for more than half the year.
4. The person who provided the care was not your spouse, the parent of your qualifying child under age 13, or a person whom you can claim as a dependent. If your child (including stepchild or foster child) provided the care, they must have been age 19 or older by December 31.

Married persons filing separate federal and New York State returns – If your filing status is Married filing separate return and all of the following apply, you are considered unmarried for purposes of computing the child and dependent care credit:

- you lived apart from your spouse during the last six months of the tax year; and
- the qualifying person lived in your home more than half of the tax year; and
- you provided over half the cost of keeping up your home.

If you meet all the requirements to be treated as unmarried and meet items 2 through 4 above, you generally can claim the credit. If you do not meet all the requirements to be treated as unmarried, you generally cannot claim the credit.

Married persons filing joint federal returns, but required to file separate New York State returns – If you and your spouse file jointly for federal purposes, but are required to file separate New York State returns because one spouse is a resident and the other spouse is either a nonresident or part-year resident, you may still claim the credit. However, the credit must be claimed on the return of the spouse with the lower taxable income (computed without regard to the credit).

Married persons not required to file a federal return – If you and your spouse are not required to file a federal income tax return, the New York State child and dependent care credit is allowed only if you file a joint New York State tax return (Form IT-201 or IT-203).

New York City credit
To qualify for the New York City child and dependent care credit you must:

- qualify to claim the New York State child and dependent care credit;
- have paid qualified expenses for a qualifying person who was under age four on December 31;
- have recomputed FAGI of $30,000 or less (see Note below); and
- have been a full-year or part-year resident of New York City.

Note: For purposes of the New York City child and dependent care credit, recomputed FAGI means the amount entered on Form IT-201, line 19a, or on Form IT-203, line 19a, Federal amount column, less any interest included on line 2 of either of these forms that is for Build America Bonds as defined in Internal Revenue Code section 54AA.

Married persons filing joint federal returns, but required to calculate New York City taxes separately – If you and your spouse file jointly for federal purposes, but are required to calculate your New York City taxes separately because one spouse is a resident and the other spouse is a nonresident or part-year resident, you may still be able to claim the credit. In this instance, the credit must be applied against the spouse with the lower taxable income (computed without regard to the credit). However, if the spouse with the lower taxable income is a nonresident of New York City, neither you nor your spouse may claim the credit.

Married persons not required to file a federal return – If you and your spouse are not required to file a federal income tax return, the New York City child and dependent care credit is allowed only if you file a joint New York State income tax return.

How to claim the credit
In addition to meeting the above requirements, to claim the New York State or New York City child and dependent care credit you must:

- file a New York State income tax return,
- report the required information about the care provider on line 2 of Form IT-216, and
- complete Form IT-216.

⚠️ Taxpayers who receive dependent care benefits from their employer must complete Worksheet 1 – Dependent care benefits.

Important terms
A qualifying person is:

- A qualifying child under age 13 whom you can claim as a dependent (but see Special rule for children of divorced or separated parents or parents who live apart on page 2). If the child turned 13 during the year, the child is a qualifying person for the part of the year they were under age 13.
- Your spouse who is disabled and not able to care for themself.
- Any person who is disabled and not able to care for themself whom you can claim as a dependent (or could claim as a dependent except that the person had gross income of $4,400 or more or filed a joint return).
- Any person who is disabled and not able to care for themself whom you could claim as a dependent except that you (or your spouse if filing a joint return) could be claimed as a dependent on someone else’s return.

If you are divorced or separated, see Special rule for children of divorced or separated parents or parents who live apart below.
To find out who is a qualifying child and who is a dependent, see federal Publication 501, Dependents, Standard Deduction, and Filing Information.

Caution: To be a qualifying person, generally, the person must have lived with you for more than half of the tax year.

Special rule for children of divorced or separated parents or parents who live apart

Even if you cannot claim your child as a dependent, your child is treated as your qualifying person if:
- The child was under age 13 or was physically or mentally not able to care for themself;
- The child received over half of their support during the calendar year from one or both parents who are divorced or legally separated under a decree of divorce or separate maintenance, are separated under a written separation agreement, or lived apart at all times during the last 6 months of the calendar year;
- The child was in the custody of one or both parents for more than half the year; and
- You were the child’s custodial parent.

Generally, the custodial parent is the parent with whom the child lived for the greater number of nights in the tax year. If the child was with each parent for an equal number of nights, the custodial parent is the parent with the higher FAGI. For details and an exception for a parent who works at night, see federal Publication 501.

Generally, the noncustodial parent cannot treat the child as a qualifying person even if that parent is entitled to claim the child as a dependent under the Special rule for children of divorced or separated parents or parents who live apart.

To find out when a noncustodial parent is entitled to claim the dependency exemption for a child, see federal Publication 501.

Dependent care benefits – include amounts your employer paid directly to either you or your care provider for the care of your qualifying person(s) while you worked. These benefits also include the fair market value of care in a day-care facility provided or sponsored by your employer and pre-tax contributions you made under a dependent care flexible spending arrangement (FSA). Your salary may have been reduced to pay for these benefits. If you received dependent care benefits as an employee, they should be shown in box 10 of your federal Form W-2, Wage and Tax Statement.

Benefits you received as a partner should be shown on your Schedule K-1 (federal Form 1065).

If you receive dependent care benefits through your employer, you must complete Worksheet 1.

Qualified expenses – include amounts paid for household services and care of the qualifying person(s) while you worked or looked for work. Child support payments are not qualified expenses. Expenses reimbursed by a state social service agency are not qualified expenses. Also, expenses paid through a dependent care account are not qualified expenses.

Generally, if you worked or actively looked for work during only part of the period in which you incurred the expenses, you must compute your expenses for each day. However, there are special rules for temporary absences or part-time work. See federal Publication 503, Child and Dependent Care Expenses, for more details.

Household services – are services needed to care for the qualifying person as well as to run the home while you worked or looked for work. They include, for example, the services of a cook, maid, babysitter, housekeeper, or cleaning person if the services were partly for the care of the qualifying person(s). Do not include services of a chauffeur or gardener.

You may also include your share of the employment taxes paid on wages for qualifying child and dependent care services.

Care of the qualifying person – includes expenses for the care of a qualifying person while you worked or looked for work only if their main purpose is for the person’s well-being and protection. It does not include the cost of food, lodging, education, clothing, or entertainment.

You may include the cost of care provided outside your home for your dependent under age 13 or any other qualifying person(s) who regularly spends at least 8 hours a day in your home. If the care was provided by a dependent care center, the center must meet all applicable state and local regulations. A dependent care center is a place that provides care for more than six persons (other than persons who live there) and receives a fee, payment, or grant for providing services for any of those persons, even if the center is not run for profit.

You may include amounts paid for food and schooling only if these items are incidental to the care of the child and cannot be separated from the total cost. But do not include the cost of schooling for a child in kindergarten or above. You can include the cost of a day camp, even if it specializes in a particular activity, such as computers or soccer. But, do not include any expenses for sending your child to an overnight camp, summer school, or a tutoring program.

Some dependent care expenses for a qualifying person who is disabled may qualify as medical expenses if you itemize deductions on Form IT-196, New York Resident, Nonresident, and Part-Year Resident Itemized Deductions. However, you cannot claim the same expense as both a dependent care expense and a medical expense for more information on qualifying medical expenses, see federal Publication 503 and Publication 502, Medical and Dental Expenses.

Prior year’s expenses – If you had qualified expenses for 2021 that you did not pay until 2022, you may be able to claim these qualified expenses and increase the amount of credit you can take in 2022. For more information, see instructions for federal Form 2441, Worksheet A, Worksheet for 2021 Expenses Paid in 2022. Also see the instructions for line 11.

Earned income – Generally, this is your wages, salaries, tips, and other taxable employee compensation. This is the amount shown on Form IT-201, line 1, or Form IT-203, line 1, Federal amount column, reduced by any amount:
- also reported on federal Schedule SE because you were a member of the clergy or you received $108.28 or more of church employee income; and
- excluded as foreign earned income (including any housing exclusion) on your federal return.

Generally, earned income no longer includes employee compensation that is nontaxable. However, you can elect to include any nontaxable combat pay in earned income to compute your credit. For more information, see federal Publication 503.

If you were a statutory employee and are filing federal Schedule C with your federal return to report income and expenses as a statutory employee, earned income also includes the amount from line 1 of that Schedule C.

If you were self-employed, earned income also includes the amount shown on federal Schedule SE, line 3, less any deduction you claimed on federal Form 1040, Schedule 1, line 15.

If you use either optional method to compute self-employment tax, you must increase the above by the amount on federal Schedule SE, line 4b.

If you received church employee income of $108.28 or more, you must increase the above by the amount on federal Schedule SE, lines 4b and 5a.

Note: You must reduce your earned income by any loss from self-employment.

Child support payments received by you are not included in your gross income and are not considered as earned income for figuring this credit.
If you are filing a joint federal return, disregard community property laws in determining the earned income of an individual. If your spouse died during the tax year and had no earned income, see federal Publication 503. If you or your spouse was a student or disabled in the tax year, see the lines 6 and 7 instructions on page 5.

Line instructions

New York State resident, nonresident, and part-year residents complete lines 1 through 14.

Part-year New York State residents must also complete lines 15 through 22.

New York City residents and part-year residents must also complete lines 23 through 30, as applicable.

Line 1 – File Form IT-216 with your New York State income tax return. If you have already filed your return, you must file an amended return and include Form IT-216.

Line 2 – Complete boxes A through D for each person or organization that provided the care. If you have more than two providers, enter the required identifying information for two providers in the spaces provided on the form. Submit a statement with your return with the same required identifying information for the additional providers. Be sure to put your name and Social Security number (SSN) on the statement. You can use federal Form W-10, Dependent Care Provider’s Identification and Certification, or any other source listed in its instructions to get the information from the care provider. If you do not give correct or complete information, your credit may be disallowed unless you can show you used due diligence (a serious and earnest effort) in trying to get the required information.

You can show due diligence to get the information by keeping in your records a federal Form W-10 completed by the care provider, or, you may keep one of the other sources of information listed in the instructions for federal Form W-10. If the provider does not give you the information, complete the entries you can on line 2 of Form IT-216. For example, enter the provider’s name and address. Write See explanation in the boxes for which you do not have the information. Then, submit an explanation with your Form IT-216 indicating that the care provider did not give you the information you requested.

Line 2 boxes A and B – Enter the care provider’s name and address. If you were covered by your employer’s dependent care plan, and your employer furnished the care (either at your workplace or by hiring a care provider), enter your employer’s name in box A. Next, write See W-2 in box B. Then leave boxes C and D blank. If your employer paid a third party (not hired by your employer) on your behalf to provide the care, you must give information on the third party in boxes A through D.

Line 2 box C – If the care provider is an individual, enter their SSN. Otherwise, enter the provider’s employer identification number (EIN). If the provider is a tax-exempt organization, write Tax-exempt in box C.

Line 2 box D – Enter the total amount you actually paid to the care provider. Also include amounts your employer paid to a third party on your behalf. It does not matter when the expenses were incurred. Do not reduce this amount by any reimbursement you received.

Line 3 – Enter the total number of qualifying persons you are claiming. Complete columns A through F for each qualifying person.

List the qualifying persons in order from youngest to oldest. Enter the required information for up to five qualifying persons in the spaces provided on the form. If you have more than five, list the required information for all additional qualifying persons in the same format on a separate sheet of paper. Write your name and SSN on all additional sheets and submit them with Form IT-216.

Line 3 columns A and B – List the name of the qualifying person you are claiming, including suffix (for example, Jr., Sr., III).

Line 3 column C – Enter all qualified expenses you incurred and paid for the person listed in columns A and B. Do not include in column C the following expenses:

1. Qualified expenses you incurred in 2022 but did not pay until 2023. However, next year you may be able to use these expenses to increase your 2023 credit.
2. Qualified expenses you incurred in 2021 but did not pay until 2022. If you had prior year expenses you did not pay until 2022, see the instructions for line 11.
3. Qualified expenses prepaid in 2022 for care to be provided in 2023. These expenses can only be used to compute your 2023 credit.
4. Expenses you paid through a dependent care account.

Note: It is possible to have no expenses for a qualifying person. You should enter 0 for qualifying persons with no expenses and the actual amount for any others.

For more information, see Qualified expenses on page 2.

Line 3 column D – Mark an X in the box in column D, Person with disability, if the qualifying person had a disability and was incapable of caring for themself.

Note: You may be required to provide supporting documentation showing that the qualifying person was incapable of caring for themself during the period the care was provided.

Line 3 column E – Enter the qualifying person’s SSN.

Caution: To be eligible to claim the New York State child and dependent care credit, you must provide a valid SSN for each person listed on your tax return. If the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) has issued you an individual taxpayer identification number (ITIN) because either you or a qualifying person claimed on Form IT-216 is a resident or nonresident noncitizen, enter this ITIN in place of the SSN.

If you have applied for a SSN by filing federal Form SS-5, Application for a Social Security Card, with the Social Security Administration, or you have applied for an ITIN by filing federal Form W-7, Application for IRS Individual Taxpayer Identification Number, with the IRS, but you have not received your SSN or ITIN by the due date of your return, you can either:

1. File IT-370, Application for Automatic Six-Month Extension of Time to File for Individuals, to request an automatic extension of time to file. (This extension does not give you any extra time to pay any tax owed. You should pay any New York taxes you expect to owe to avoid interest or penalty charges. For more information, see IT-370.)
2. File your return on time without claiming the child and dependent care credit and do not file Form IT-216. After receiving the SSN or ITIN, file an amended return and include Form IT-216 to claim the credit.

Line 3 column F – Enter the qualifying person’s date of birth.

Line 3b – Complete Worksheet 1 if you received dependent care benefits from your employer. If you did not receive dependent care benefits from your employer, leave line 3b blank.

Instructions for completing Worksheet 1 – Dependent care benefits

Line 1 – Amounts you received as an employee should be shown in box 10 of your federal Form(s) W-2. Do not include amounts reported as wages in box 1 of federal Form(s) W-2. If you were self-employed or a partner, include amounts you received under a dependent care assistance program from your sole proprietorship or partnership.

Line 2 – If you had an employer-provided dependent care plan, your employer may have permitted you to carry forward any unused amount from either 2020, 2021, or both to use in 2022. Enter on line 2 the amount you carried forward and used in 2022.

Caution: Temporary special rules for unused amounts in a dependent care FSA allows employers to amend their dependent care plans to allow employees to carry over unused benefits from a plan year ending in 2020 or 2021 to a plan year ending in 2021 or 2022. Your employer can tell you whether your dependent care plan was amended.

Line 4 – If you had an employer-provided dependent care plan, enter on line 4 the total of the following amounts included on lines 1 or 2.

- Any amount you forfeited. You forfeited an amount if you did not receive it because you did not incur the expense. Do not include amounts you expect to receive at a future date.
- Any amount you did not receive but are permitted by your employer to carry forward and use in the following year.

Example: Under your employer’s dependent care plan, you chose to have your employer set aside $5,000 to cover your 2022 dependent care expenses. The $5,000 is shown on your federal Form W-2, in box 10. In 2022, you incurred and were reimbursed for $4,950 of qualified expenses. You would enter $5,000 on line 1 and $50, the amount forfeited, on line 4. You would also enter $50 on line 4 if, instead of forfeiting the amount, your employer permitted you to carry the $50 forward to use in 2023.

Line 6 – Enter the total of all qualified expenses incurred in 2022 for the care of your qualifying person(s). It does not matter when the expenses were paid.

Example: You received $2,000 in cash under your employer’s dependent care plan for 2022. The $2,000 is shown on your federal Form W-2, in box 10. Only $900 of qualified expenses were incurred in 2022 for the care of your 5-year-old dependent child. You would enter $2,000 on line 1 and $900 on line 6.

Line 8 – If filing jointly, figure your and your spouse’s earned income separately. Enter your earned income on line 8 and your spouse’s earned income on line 9 (see Earned income on page 2). If your filing status is married filing separately or you or your spouse was a student or disabled, see the instructions for line 9 below.

Line 9 – If your filing status is married filing separately, see Married persons filing separate federal and New York State returns on page 1. Are you considered unmarried under that rule?

If Yes, enter your earned income (from line 8) on line 9. Enter $5,000 plus any amount entered on line 2 on line 11.

If No, enter your spouse’s earned income on line 9. If you or your spouse was a full-time student or disabled in 2022, see the instructions for If you or your spouse was a student or disabled on page 5. Enter $2,500 plus any amount entered on line 2 on line 11.

Caution: Do not enter on line 4 any amounts that are not already entered on line 1 or 2. Therefore, if you carried forward dependent care benefits from 2021 to 2022, and you did not use the benefits in 2022 and are carrying the benefits forward to 2023, you would not enter the amounts on line 1, 2, or 4.
Lines 6 and 7 – Important: For information on the calculation of earned income, see Earned income on page 2. Enter only your earned income on line 6 (do not include your spouse’s). If you are filing your return using filing status ☇, Married filing joint return, enter your spouse’s earned income on line 7. If you are using any other filing status, enter the amount from line 6 on line 7. If either the line 6 or line 7 amount is zero or less, stop. You cannot claim the New York State or New York City child and dependent care credit.

If you or your spouse was a student or disabled – If your spouse is a student or disabled during the tax year, they are treated as having earned income. The earned income for each month is considered to be at least $250 if there is one qualifying person in your home, or at least $500 if there are two or more. Compute your spouse’s earned income on a monthly basis.

If your spouse:
- worked during a month, use the higher of $250 (or $500 if more than one qualifying person was cared for) or the actual earned income for that month
- is a full-time student or disabled for only part of a month, the full $250 (or $500 if more than one qualifying person was cared for) still applies for that month
- was not disabled or a student for a month, use their actual earned income

Note: These rules also apply to you if you are a student or disabled and are filing a joint return. However, if in the same month, both you and your spouse are either full-time students or disabled, only one spouse can be considered as having earned income of $250 (or $500) for that month.

For purposes of the above, student means a person enrolled as a full-time student at a school during any five months of the tax year. A person is disabled if they were not physically or mentally capable of self-care.

Line 9 – Enter your recomputed FAGI from Form IT-201, line 19a, or Form IT-203, line 19a, Federal amount column.

Line 10 – Enter on line 10 the appropriate decimal amount for your recomputed FAGI shown on line 9 from the table below.

*This may be any amount up to $15,000, including zero or a negative amount.

Line 11 – If you had qualified expenses for 2021 that you did not pay until 2022, you may be able to claim these qualified expenses and increase the amount of credit you can take in 2022. If you can take a credit for 2021 expenses paid in 2022, write PYE and the amount of the credit you are claiming for prior year expenses on the dotted line next to line 11. Also include this amount in the line 11 amount box. Submit a statement showing how you computed the credit for 2021 expenses.

Line 12 – Transfer the amount from line 11 to line 12, and complete the remainder of Form IT-216.

Line 13 – The New York State child and dependent care credit depends on the amount of your New York adjusted gross income. Enter in the space provided your New York adjusted gross income using the following:
- Form IT-201 filers – amount from line 33 of Form IT-201.
- Form IT-203 filers – amount from line 32 of Form IT-203.

Line 14 – Enter the amount from line 14 as follows:
- if you do not qualify to claim the New York City child and dependent care credit (see New York City credit under Who qualifies on page 1), enter the line 14 amount as follows:
  - Residents: Enter the line 14 amount on Form IT-201, line 64.
  - Nonresidents: Enter the line 14 amount on Form IT-203, line 41.
- Part-year residents: Enter the line 14 amount on Form IT-203, line 41, and continue on line 15 of Form IT-216.

If you qualify to claim the New York City child and dependent care credit, follow the instructions below for your filing status.

- Full-year New York State residents and full-year or part-year New York City residents: continue on line 23 in the New York City child and dependent care credit section.
- Part-year New York State residents and part-year New York City residents: Enter the line 14 amount on Form IT-203, line 41, and continue on line 15 of Form IT-216. Also complete the New York City child and dependent care credit section (lines 23 through 30).

Part-year New York State residents

Lines 15 through 22 need to be completed only by New York State part-year residents claiming the New York State child and dependent care credit who are filing Form IT-203. The amounts for these lines can be found on the appropriate lines of Form IT-203 or Form IT-203-ATT, Other Tax Credits and Taxes, or the instructions for Form IT-203.

The New York State child and dependent care credit must first reduce your tax liability to zero before the remaining excess is eligible to be refunded. The amount to be refunded will be based on the ratio of resident period income to the combined income from both the resident and nonresident periods.

Line 19 – If this amount is less than zero, stop; you have no remaining excess New York State child and dependent care credit available to be refunded.

Line 21 – Divide line 19 by line 20 and round the result to the fourth decimal place. Do not enter more than 100% (1.0000) even if your actual result is more than 100%. If the amount on line 20 is less than zero, but the amount on line 19 is more than zero, enter 100%. If you and your spouse file jointly for federal purposes but are required to calculate your New York City taxes separately, the credit may only be applied against the New York City tax imposed on the spouse with the lower taxable income.
