

Instructions for Form IT-360.1

Change of City Resident Status

New York City • Yonkers

General information

For income tax purposes, New York City includes the Bronx, Brooklyn, Manhattan, Queens, and Staten Island. If during the tax year you had a New York City or Yonkers change of resident status, you must complete Form IT-360.1. If you changed your New York City or Yonkers residence, but not your New York State residence, submit Form IT-360.1 with Form IT-201, Resident Income Tax Return. If you changed both your New York State residence and New York City or Yonkers residence during the same tax year, you must complete both Form IT-203, Nonresident and Part-Year Resident Income Tax Return, and Form IT-360.1.

Your move into or out of New York City or Yonkers will be recognized as a change of resident status if:

- at the time of your move, you definitely intended to permanently leave your home and residence; and
- you definitely intended to establish a permanent home (domicile) someplace else.

The New York State Tax Department will consider your actions as well as your statements in deciding if you have met both conditions for a change of resident status.

For definitions of domicile, permanent place of abode, resident, nonresident and part-year resident, and for information on who must file returns, see the instructions for Form IT-201 or Form IT-203.

Which forms to file

If you had a:	File:
New York City or Yonkers (or both) change of resident status and you were a New York State resident for the entire year	Form IT-201 to report your full-year New York State resident tax and your part-year New York City resident tax, or part-year Yonkers resident income tax surcharge (or both) and Form IT-360.1 to compute your part-year New York City resident tax or part-year Yonkers resident income tax surcharge (or both)
New York State and New York City, or New York State and Yonkers change of resident status	Form IT-203 to report your part-year New York State resident tax and your part-year New York City resident tax or part-year Yonkers resident income tax surcharge and Form IT-360.1 to compute your part-year New York City resident tax or part-year Yonkers resident income tax surcharge

Note: You may also have to file Form Y-203, Yonkers Nonresident Earnings Tax Return, to report any wages or net earnings from self-employment that you received from Yonkers sources during your Yonkers nonresident period. (However, if you did not receive any such wages from an employer or earnings from self-employment during your Yonkers nonresident period, you do not have to file Form Y-203. Submit with either your Form IT-201 or your Form IT-203 a statement saying that you did not receive any wages or earnings from self-employment from Yonkers sources during that period.)

Returns for married taxpayers

If you are married filing a joint return and	file Form IT-360.1	Notes
you both changed your New York City or Yonkers resident status at the same time	jointly one spouse was a full-year resident or full-year nonresident of New York City and the other spouse changed their New York City resident status	only for the spouse who changed city residence	New York City resident tax must be computed separately for the full-year New York City resident spouse on Form IT-201.
you each changed your New York City or Yonkers resident status at different times	separately
one spouse was a full-year resident or full-year nonresident of Yonkers and the other spouse changed their Yonkers resident status	only for the spouse who changed Yonkers residence	The spouse who changed Yonkers residence must also complete Form Y-203, if applicable, and submit it with Form IT-201 or Form IT-203. The other spouse, if a resident, must compute a separate Yonkers resident income tax surcharge for the entire tax year on Form IT-201 as if separate federal returns were filed, or, if a nonresident subject to the Yonkers nonresident earnings tax, must complete Form Y-203 and submit it with Form IT-201 or Form IT-203.
Note: If you are married filing a joint New York State return and a joint Form IT-360.1, enter both names on the joint Form IT-360.1 and the Social Security number of the primary taxpayer. If you are married filing a joint New York State return but are required to file a separate Form IT-360.1, enter the name and Social Security number of the spouse who is completing the separate Form IT-360.1.
Married taxpayers filing separate New York State returns must each file a separate Form IT-360.1.

How to file

Submit Forms IT-360.1 and Y-203, if applicable, with either your resident return, Form IT-201, or your nonresident and part-year resident return, Form IT-203.

Income and deductions – special accruals

Your accrued income as an individual moving out of New York City is income you earned in your New York City resident period but received after you became a nonresident of New York City. Your accrued income as an individual moving into New York City is non-New York State source income you earned in your nonresident period but received after you became a New York City resident. Income accrues to you as a taxpayer when the amount becomes fixed and determinable and you have an unrestricted right to receive it. An accrued expense is a cost that has been incurred but not yet paid.

If you moved out of New York City, you must include on Form IT-360.1 any item of income, gain, loss, or deduction which, under an accrual method of accounting, would be reportable at the time you changed your residence. This includes income or gain you elected to report on the installment basis. You must also accrue to New York City the total taxable amount of lump-sum distributions subject to the separate tax on lump-sum distributions (Form IT-230).

Accruals are not required if you file a bond or other acceptable security in an amount equal to or greater than the amount of additional New York City resident tax that would be due if the accrued items were included on your part-year resident return, and you include the accrued amount on your New York State return for subsequent tax years as if no change in resident status occurred. If you elect to file a bond instead of accruing income, you will need Form IT-260, New York State and New York City Surety Bond Form – Change of Resident Status – Special Accruals. If you elect to file other acceptable security instead of accruing income, you will need Form IT-260.1, Change of Resident Status – Special Accruals.

As a resident, if you received proceeds from lottery winnings (the amount of winnings less the amount of the wager) of more than $5,000 from a state lottery, the proceeds are subject to New York State, New York City (if applicable) and Yonkers (if applicable) income tax withholding. Also as a resident, New York State, New York City (if applicable) and Yonkers (if applicable) income tax withholding is required from any gambling winnings from a wagering transaction within New York State if the proceeds from the wager are subject to federal withholding under Internal Revenue Code § 3402. Form W-2G, Certain Gambling Winnings, will serve as acceptable security in lieu of making a special accrual of winnings as required by the Tax Law.

If you became a New York City resident during the tax year, you must accrue any item of income, gain, loss, or deduction which, under an accrual method of accounting, would be reportable at the time you changed your residence, except that no accrual is required or allowed for items of income, gain, loss, or deduction derived from or connected with New York State sources.

Any item of income, gain, loss, or deduction accrued up to the time you changed your residence must be excluded in determining your New York City taxable income, or total taxable amount of lump-sum distributions for the year of change or any subsequent year.

Standard deduction

If you claimed the standard deduction on Form IT-201 or Form IT-203, you must claim the standard deduction on Form IT-360.1.

Filing status	Standard deduction
Single ① and you can be claimed as a dependent on another taxpayer's return	$ 3,100
Single ① and you cannot be claimed as a dependent on another taxpayer's return	8,000
Married filing joint return ②, or qualifying surviving spouse ⑤	16,050
Married filing separate return ③	8,000
Head of household ④ (with qualifying person)	11,200

How to prorate your standard deduction and dependent exemptions

If you changed your New York City resident status, you have to prorate your standard deduction and your dependent exemptions. To do this, first determine the number of full months you spent as a New York City resident during your 12-month tax year. Count any period of more than one-half month as a full month; do not count a period of one-half month or less. Then use the Proration chart below to find the allowable amount of your standard deduction and exemptions.

Proration chart

Number of months	Standard deduction					Dependent exemption(s)
	Single and can be claimed on another return	Single and cannot be claimed on another return	Married filing joint return and Qualifying surviving spouse	Married filing separate return	Head of household	Value of one dependent exemption (rounded in some cases)
1	$ 258	$ 667	$ 1,338	$ 667	$ 933	$ 83
2	517	1,333	2,675	1,333	1,867	167
3	775	2,000	4,013	2,000	2,800	250
4	1,033	2,667	5,350	2,667	3,733	333
5	1,292	3,333	6,688	3,333	4,667	417
6	1,550	4,000	8,025	4,000	5,600	500
7	1,808	4,667	9,363	4,667	6,533	583
8	2,067	5,333	10,700	5,333	7,467	667
9	2,325	6,000	12,038	6,000	8,400	750
10	2,583	6,667	13,375	6,667	9,333	833
11	2,842	7,333	14,713	7,333	10,267	917
12	3,100	8,000	16,050	8,000	11,200	1,000

If you are married and filing separate returns and one of you claims the standard deduction, the other must also claim the standard deduction. If you are married and filing a joint New York State return but are separately computing your tax for New York City, use the Married filing separate return column to find your prorated standard deduction.

Example 1: You and your spouse moved into New York City on April 1; your 3-month city nonresident period is January through March; your 9-month city resident period is April through December. Your standard deduction on your joint New York State return for the entire year is $16,050. Your standard deduction for the nine months that you and your spouse were New York City residents, based on the Proration chart, is $12,038.

If you have more than one dependent exemption, use the Proration chart and multiply the value of one dependent exemption (the right-hand column) by the number of your dependent exemptions claimed on Form IT-201 or Form IT-203.

Example 2: You are married filing a joint return and have two dependent children. On July 10 you moved from New York City to Rochester. You are entitled to two dependent exemptions totaling $2,000. For New York City purposes, you must prorate the dependent exemption to conform with your six-month city resident period (January through June). Your prorated dependent exemptions total is $1000 (2 dependent exemptions × 500).

If only one spouse changed New York City resident status during the year, New York City resident taxes must be computed separately. The spouse who was a full-year resident of New York City must compute full-year city resident tax on Form IT-201. A Form IT-360.1 must be completed for the spouse who changed city resident status to compute a prorated New York City resident tax. Use the standard deduction portion of the Proration chart for your filing status.

Example 3: You are married and filing a joint New York State return. You are a full-year resident of New York City. Your spouse moved into New York City on September 4. You must compute a separate New York City resident tax for the entire tax year on your joint New York State Form IT-201. Your spouse, who changed city residence status as of September 4, must complete a separate Form IT-360.1 for the four-month resident period. Your standard deduction on your joint return for the entire year is $16,050. However, the married filing separate return standard deduction for the four months your spouse was a New York City resident, based on the Proration chart, is $2,667.

Part 1 – New York adjusted gross income

Lines 1 through 18

Enter in Column A the amounts of income and adjustments reported on your federal return.

Enter in Column B that part of the income included in Column A that you received from all sources while you were a New York City resident.

Enter in Column C that part of the income included in Column A that you received from all sources while you were a Yonkers resident.

Line 19 – New York modifications

Compute the additions to or subtractions from your federal AGI that you entered in Column A as if you were a New York City or Yonkers resident the entire year. Enter in Column B the amount of additions to or subtractions from your federal AGI for the period you were a New York City resident. Enter in Column C the amount of additions to or subtractions from your federal AGI for the period you were a Yonkers resident.

These modifications are listed in the instructions for Form IT-201 or Form IT-203 under New York additions and subtractions, and in the instructions for Form IT-225, New York State Modifications.

On a separate sheet marked Form IT-360.1, Line 19 – New York modifications, identify by modification number (or description if there is no modification number) the New York modifications that apply to you. Show the amount of each and submit this sheet with your return. Total all your modifications and include the net figure on line 19.

 If you are married and filing separate returns, you must each claim your own items of income, adjustments, and modifications, as if you had filed separate federal returns.

Part 2 – Itemized deductions for New York City

If you itemize deductions on Form IT-201 or Form IT-203 and you changed your New York City resident status, you must claim the itemized deduction on Form IT-360.1. Complete Part 2 of Form IT-360.1.

Column A

Lines 21 through 27 – Enter the amount of the corresponding itemized deduction that you claimed on Form IT-196, New York Resident, Nonresident, and Part-Year Resident Itemized Deductions, lines 4, 9, 15, 19, 20, 28, and 39.

Enter the amount of itemized deductions from Column A incurred or paid, determined as if your tax year were limited to the period you were a New York City resident.

Your itemized deductions are subject to certain limitations (such as, medical expenses, job expenses, and miscellaneous deductions) which must be applied to items attributed to your New York City period of residence. Therefore, you may want to recompute Form IT-196 as if your itemized deductions and your federal AGI were limited to your period of city residence.

Line 31 – State, local, and foreign income taxes (or general sales tax, if applicable) and other subtraction adjustments

If the amount you reported on Form IT-360.1, line 18, Column B, is equal to or less than the applicable amount based on your filing status in Table 1 below and you itemized deductions on your New York return, enter the amount of state, local, and foreign income taxes (or general sales tax, if applicable) included on line 22, Column B, and other subtraction adjustments related to those itemized deductions included on line 28, Column B. Other subtraction adjustments are listed in the instructions for Form IT-196. If you have a subtraction adjustment for long-term care (item F), complete Worksheet 1 below.

If the amount you reported on Form IT-360.1, line 18, Column B, is more than the applicable amount based on your filing status in Table 1 below and you itemized deductions on your New York return, you must complete Worksheet 1 (only if you have a subtraction adjustment for item F) and Worksheet 2. Before completing Worksheet 2, you must recompute the Line 40, Total itemized deductions worksheet in the instructions for Form IT-196. You must recompute that worksheet as if your federal AGI and your allowable New York itemized deductions were limited to your period of New York City residence.

Line 49 – Enter on line 49 the total of credits listed below that you are entitled to claim.

New York City household credit

You qualify to claim this credit if you marked the No box at item C on the front page of your Form IT-201 or Form IT-203. Use the appropriate New York City household credit table and notes to determine the amount of your New York City household credit to include on line 49.

- Filing status ① – Use Household credit table 1 to find the amount of your New York City household credit.
- Filing status ②, ④, or ⑤ – Use Household credit table 2 to find the amount of your New York City household credit.

– Filing status ③ – Use Household credit table 3 to find the amount of your New York City household credit.

If you are married and filing a joint New York State return but are separately computing your tax for New York City, use Household credit table 3 to find the amount of your New York City household credit.

If you change your New York City resident status during the tax year, the New York City household credit has to be prorated based on the number of full months you spent as a resident.

Example 1: You are single and moved into New York City on June 29. Your federal AGI for the entire year is $11,000. This entitles you to a New York City household credit of $10 which you must prorate for your resident period. To prorate your credit for your six-month resident period, multiply $10 by 6/12 and include the result ($5) on line 49 of Form IT-360.1.

Example 2: You are married and filing separate returns. You moved out of New York City on May 9, and your spouse moved out on August 30. Your combined federal AGI for the entire year is $14,500. You and your spouse have one dependent child. You are each entitled to a $45 New York City household credit. You must prorate it as follows:

	You	Your spouse
New York City household credit	$45	$45
Resident period of four months (4/12 × $45)	$15
Resident period of eight months (8/12 × $45)		$30

You and your spouse must each enter your prorated New York City household credit on line 49 of your separate Forms IT-360.1.

Accumulation distribution credit

If, during the period that you resided in New York City, you received an accumulation distribution as a beneficiary of a trust, you may be allowed an accumulation distribution credit for your share of:

- NYC income taxes paid by the trust,* and
- any income tax imposed on the trust by another state, political subdivision within that state, or the District of Columbia on income sourced to the other jurisdiction.* However, this credit cannot be more than the percentage of NYC tax due determined by dividing the portion of the income taxable to the trust in the other jurisdiction and taxable to the beneficiary in NYC by the beneficiary's total NYC income.

The credit may not reduce your tax due to an amount less than would have been due if the accumulation distribution was excluded from your New York AGI. Submit a copy of the computation of your New York State accumulation distribution credit.

* These amounts should be provided to you by the trust.

If you are also entitled to claim the New York City household credit, enter the total of the two credits on line 49.
