Introduction and Background

Chapter 170 of the Laws of 1994 created the New York State earned income tax credit (EITC), which became effective in 1994. Authorized by Section 606(d)(7) of the Tax Law, the credit equaled 20 percent of the federal EITC for the 1999 tax year. New York residents may receive a refund of any excess credits. The credit is nonrefundable to nonresidents. Taxpayers must file a New York State income tax return to receive the earned income tax credit.

Table 1 provides a summary of the major provisions of both the federal and New York credits. The federal credit equals a percentage of earned income, up to a maximum credit amount. At greater income levels, the credit begins to decline as income increases. Maximum earnings and income phaseout levels are indexed annually for inflation. Taxpayers must receive earned income to claim the credit. Fifteen states currently provide an earned income tax credit. Fourteen states, including New York, are linked to federal law.

Table 2 lists these states and provides comparative information on the State credits.

Legislation enacted in 1995 amended the State EITC in two ways. First, it increased the percentage for tax year 1996 from the previously scheduled 15 percent to 20 percent of the federal credit. The scheduled percentage for 1997 and thereafter remained at 20 percent. Second, it restored the household credit for 1996 and thereafter, and requires taxpayers to subtract it from their EITC.

Legislation enacted in 1999 increased the EITC from 20 percent of the federal credit to 22.5 percent in tax year 2000, and to 25 percent in tax years beginning after 2000. However, the rate will revert to 20 percent if the federal government reduces New York's allocation of temporary assistance for needy families (TANF) grant, or does not permit spending on the EITC to apply toward the TANF maintenance of effort requirement.

Legislation enacted in 2000 further increases the EITC to 27.5 percent of the federal credit in 2002 and to 30.0 percent after 2002. These increases are similarly predicated upon funding through the federal TANF grant.

This statistical study results from a legislative mandate. The Department of Taxation and Finance (the Department) must submit to the Governor and the Legislature an annual preliminary report by September 30, and an annual final report by February 15 of each year. The legislation mandates the reporting of detailed data, on a county-level basis, showing the usage and value of the EITC. It also requires classification of this data by amount of earned income, size of credit, and number of qualifying children. Appendix A contains the actual mandate for this statistical study as contained in Chapter 170 of the Laws of 1994.

Notes:

(1) Credit is only available if state revenues exceed constitutional spending limitations.

(2) The credit is in tax year 2000 and is scheduled to sunset after three years.

(3) Credit is not based on the federal credit, but on earned income at various rates for each filing status.

(4) The credit is available for taxpayers with gross incomes of $20,000 or less and is scheduled to increase to 17.5% in 2002 and 20% beginning in 2003.

(5) The credit is currently scheduled to increase to 27.5% in 2002 and 30% in tax year 2003.

(6) The credit is first effective in tax year 2001.

(7) Percentage of federal credit varies by number of children – 4% (one child), 14% (two children), and 43% (three or more children).

Nature and Purpose of the EITC

Congress adopted the federal earned income tax credit as part of the Tax Reduction Act of 1975. It subsequently expanded the scope and enriched the size of the credit three times — in 1986, 1990, and 1993. In each case, both qualifying earnings and corresponding credit amounts increased significantly.

While Congress has expanded both the size and scope of the earned income tax credit, it has generally retained the credit's basic structure. It applies at a fixed rate of earned income up to a maximum amount of earnings, resulting in a maximum credit amount. When the higher of earnings or federal adjusted gross income (FAGI) exceeds the maximum earnings amount, the credit begins to phase out at a fixed rate. The EITC first functions like a negative income tax, because it is fully refundable if it exceeds tax liability.¹ It then becomes fixed over a narrow income range and, finally, it creates an additional marginal tax rate over the phaseout range. Figure 1 illustrates the relationship between credit amounts and earnings (or FAGI, if greater) by qualifying status.

Source: OTPA Calculation
 * Or modified FAGI (if greater)
 Note: Credit amounts are reduced by the household credit

The EITC serves several intertwined purposes within the federal tax and transfer system. First, because it is based on earned income, it acts as a type of wage subsidy. This increases the net return to work effort and thus is intended to encourage either additional work effort or higher labor force participation. Either response would mean that the credit helps make work a more attractive alternative to welfare.²

Second, Congress intended the EITC to offset all or part of the payroll (Federal Insurance Contributions Act, or FICA) tax burden faced by lower-income workers.³ Because the FICA tax contains no deductions or exemptions, it can prove especially burdensome for workers with earnings in the range of those qualifying for the EITC. Over time, increases in maximum credit amounts have more than offset the increases in FICA tax rates, making the current maximum EITC substantially greater than the combined employee-employer share of FICA tax paid on the same earnings.

Finally, because it phases out as income increases, the EITC plays a general role in increasing the progressivity of the federal income tax. The EITC targets tax relief to low and moderate-income taxpayers, while its refundability feature provides cash rebates to the lowest-income workers.

The New York earned income tax credit serves similar purposes as well. However, because it is only a fraction of the federal amount, its impacts are less pronounced.

In addition, because New York does not impose any FICA-like payroll taxes, the New York EITC goes completely toward either reducing the personal income tax burden, or providing cash rebates. In tax year 1999, approximately 85 percent of the total earned income credit claimed was refundable to taxpayers.⁴ This is similar to the percentage of the federal EITC which is refundable under the federal income tax.

Summary Statistics

Table 3 provides a general statistical overview of the 1999 EITC by taxpayers' place of residence. Some major statistical highlights include:

- The total earned income credit claimed increased from approximately $346 million in 1998 to $361 million in 1999. Figure 2 shows how the total credit claimed has increased over tax years from 1994 through 1999.
- The $15 million (4.3 percent) increase in total credit claimed from 1998 to 1999 is due to the regular indexation of the federal credit parameters for each year and, potentially, labor market factors.

* Includes nonresidents and part-year residents who moved out of New York. Part-year residents who move into New York are classified by the county into which they moved.

- Approximately 1,160,000 returns claimed an earned income tax credit. This represents about 14 percent of all taxable and nontaxable returns. Figure 3 shows credit usage since the inception of the EITC.
- Average credit amounts varied little by county, ranging from a low of $255 in Hamilton County, to a high of $390 in Bronx County. The Statewide average credit for all filers equaled $311.
- The average credit for nonresidents, part-year residents, and unclassified claimants was less than half the average for residents.

As shown on Table 1, EITC eligibility and amounts vary by family size. Workers with children can earn considerably more income before the credit phases out. They also qualify for considerably higher credit rates. Table 4 below summarizes credit usage by family size for all taxpayers.

Statistical Tables Accompanying This Report

The statistical tables in this report provide information on the number of EITC claims, and their total and average dollar amounts. The information is displayed alphabetically by county. It is followed by summary data for New York City and its counties. The last section presents aggregate statistics for full-year nonresidents, part-year residents moving out of New York and data for filers with missing addresses.

Within each county, EITC usage is shown by $4,000 ranges of earned income, and by number of qualifying children. As used here, earned income includes wages, salaries and tips; business income or loss; and certain other taxable and nontaxable income. EITC usage is shown by three filing statuses — single, married joint, and head of household. Qualifying widows(ers) are included in the married filing joint category, and married taxpayers filing separate returns are included in the head of household category. Disclosure limitations did not allow for displaying these two filing statuses separately. The average credit value displayed in the total column includes in its computation values of less than $500.

The information in the following tables comes from IT-215 forms filed through December 2000. It includes claims for EITC that passed the Department's two-stage verification procedure, and therefore were credited or paid to taxpayers. Taxpayers who did not file returns through December 2000 may file a claim for EITC for the 1999 tax year until April 15, 2003.

Taxpayers must file both a regular income tax return and form IT-215 to claim the EITC. This procedure differs from that for claiming the real property tax circuit breaker credit. Taxpayers may claim that credit using a “stand alone” form IT-214, without having to file a regular tax return.

Appendix B contains a copy of form IT-215 and instructions.

Endnotes

1. Currently, about 80 percent of the federal EITC constitutes cash rebates to persons filing tax returns, but not owing tax.
2. However, the way in which the credit phases out significantly increases the marginal tax rate on workers in the phaseout range, thereby potentially reducing their incentive to earn additional wages.
3. For elaboration on the tax policy objectives of the earned income credit, see Joseph Pechman, Federal Tax Policy, Fifth Edition, (Washington, D.C., The Brookings Institution, 1987). For a comparison and analysis of state programs, see Center on Budget and Policy Priorities, A Hand Up: How State Earned Income Credits Help Working Families Escape Poverty, (November 2000).
4. This percentage is based on a simulation of taxpayer liability that does not take into account taxpayer prepayments.

Appendix A: Legislative Mandate for the Earned Income Tax Credit Study, Chapter 170, Laws of 1994

“The commissioner shall prepare a preliminary written report after July thirty-first and a final written report after December thirty-first of each calendar year, which shall contain statistical information regarding the credits granted on or before such dates under this subsection during such calendar year. Copies of these reports shall be submitted by such commissioner to the governor, the temporary president of the senate, the speaker of the assembly, the chairman of the senate finance committee and the chairman of the assembly ways and means committee within sixty days of July thirty-first with respect to the preliminary report, and within forty-five days of December thirty-first with respect to the final report. Such reports shall contain, but need not be limited to, the number of credits and the average amount of such credits allowed; and of those, the number of credits and the average amount of such credits allowed to taxpayers in each county; and of those, the number of credits and the average amount of such credits allowed to taxpayers whose earned income falls within ranges, determined by the commissioner, of not more than four thousand dollars; and of those, the number of credits and the average amount of such credits allowed to taxpayers who file under the different statuses set forth in subsections (a), (b) and (c) of section six hundred one; and of those, the number of credits and the average amount of such credits allowed to taxpayers whose number of qualifying children falls within the categories set forth in such section thirty-two of the internal revenue code.”
